NIGHT EDITION LIFE SENTENCE

Imposed on Man Tried in Salem for Murder

SALEM, Nov. 23.—Changing his plea of not guilty of murder in the first degree to guilty of murder in the second degree, Pritios Tsapas, a Greek of Haverhill, was today sentenced to life imprisonment in the state prison at Charlestown by Chief Justice Alden in the Essex county superior criminal court, where for several days Tsapas has been on trial for the killing of his former roommate, Constantinos Chasoden. He was taken to the Charlestown prison within a few moments after sentence was pronounced.

Tsapas asked permission of the court this morning to change his plea and the court and the prosecuting attorneys granted the request.

The murder was committed at Haverhill on Oct. 3, 1909. Tsapas and Chasoden went out for a walk together and Tsapas returned alone. A few days later the body of Chasoden was found in a field. An investigation showed that he had been murdered and robbed of between $80 and $300. Tsapas was arrested later as he was about to leave America for Macedonia. He had on his person at the time of his arrest a sum of money almost equal to that which had been taken from Chasoden.

BUBONIC PLAGUE

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 23.—The whole of Manchuria is officially declared to be infected with the bubonic plague but not with cholera, as was erroneously reported recently.

Stringent measures have been taken on the Siberian frontier to prevent the entrance of the epidemic into Primorsk.

Supplies of serum have been sent to Vladivostok.

JUDGE HOBBS APPOINTED

AUGUSTA, Me., Nov. 23.—Judge Nathaniel Hobbs of North Berwick was reappointed a director of the Maine General Hospital today.

Two Men Sue City of Lowell for Alleged Violations

Alden B. Ilsley Wants Compensation for Suspension in City Engineer's Office and Wm. Green for Dismissal From Fire Dept.

Before Judge Harris in jury waived session of the superior court today the case of Alden B. Ilsley vs. City of Lowell was heard. Misses Donovan and Arundel of Lawrence for the plaintiff and City Solicitor Duncan for the city. Mr. Ilsley is at present an employee of the city engineering office and has been a candidate for city engineer. Some time ago he was suspended by City Engineer Bowers and was later restored to his position. He claims that he was wrongfully suspended and sues to recover salary for the period of suspension.

Mr. Ilsley was the only witness for the plaintiff and he stated that he was suspended for political reasons. City Engineer Bowers was the only witness for the defense and he claimed that he was obliged to suspend Mr. Ilsley to cut down expenses in his office. He denied that politics had anything to do with the matter. The counsel then argued and the court took the case under advisement.

Green vs. City of Lowell
The case of William J. Green vs. the City of Lowell, with the same counsel was then opened. In this case the plaintiff who was a substitute call fireman connected with the High Street Fire company, claims that he was illegally discharged from the service in violation of the civil service law. The defense claims that he was discharged for cause and that he did not come under the civil service laws. Lawyers Daniel J. Donahue and Joseph Loughran whom the plaintiff consulted before bringing the suit were called and Mr. Loughran testified that when he went to the chief of the latter stated that he had not sent Mr. Green's name to the civil service commission as a call fireman when the call men were about to be put under the civil service law.

William J. Green, the plaintiff, testified that he became a substitute call fireman in 1904. The following year Captain Burns gave him a book of rules and told him he was to be a regular call man. In July 1906 he went to the city treasurer's office to see if there was any pay coming to him and he was told there was none. In April 1907, he received a notice from Captain Burns informing him that he had been dismissed from the department. He was given a hearing and then dismissed. Witness said he had never received any money for his services as a call man.

Witness repeated that on June 28, 1905, Capt. Burns told him that he was to be a regular fireman. When he found there was no money coming to him as call man he spoke to Chief Hosmer and the latter said he would look the matter up.

On cross-examination witness said that he claimed to have appointed a call man July 1, 1905.

He was asked if he answered an alarm from box 52 on July 15, 1905, but he couldn't remember. Mr. Duncan then read a list of dates and fire alarms but witness said he could not remember that far back.

He was asked if he had answered any alarms since July 15, 1906, and he replied that he responded to them all but could recall no individual occasions. Witness said he was given pay as a substitute but not from the city.

Mr. Duncan asked the witness who paid him but he couldn't recall. Chief Hosmer was then sworn and he testified that in 1907 he discharged

Mr. Green from the department. He stated that he told Mr. Green's lawyer that he thought Green had no standing under the civil service law. The call men were put under the civil service law July 1, 1905. Witness said he did not appoint Mr. Green a call man prior to July 1, 1905.

Witness said that when the civil service commissioners asked for a list of the department, their ages, etc., he sent a list of all the men including a list of 30 men who were paid by the alarm, and Green came under this list.

Witness admitted that he had said at a hearing that he had sent the substitute's names down to examine the civil service law but had corrected the statements. There were some substitutes who had been running for 10 years and they couldn't get by if they had to take an examination. Lawyer Donovan then produced an annual report of the chief engineer in which Mr. Green was classified as a hoseman.

Chief Hosmer stated that he did not think he told Mr. Donahue or Mr. Loughran that Green was not under the civil service law.

Chief Hosmer said that he did not intend to evade the law but he wanted to protect the substitutes who couldn't take an examination.

Story of the Caucuses

The caucuses have come and gone and now we know who we are to vote for on election day.

Mayor Meehan, as was expected, was well throughout the city. The democrats nominated both of the French-American candidates on the aldermanic ticket while on the republican the only

On the republican side George H. French-American candidate, Mr. Brown defeated Royal K. Dexter by 1796, the latter apparently taking but little personal interest in the contest.

In the contest for purchasing agent, Edward H. Foye received the nomination over Thomas J. Fitzgerald, after an active, but clean cut campaign. Mr. Foye receiving 2371 against 1743 for Mr. Fitzgerald. Thomas M. Welch, the third candidate, received 719 votes.

On the republican end Smith Adams had a walk-over for purchasing agent, getting 3006 votes while his opponents together received but 2341.

The democrats in the selection of an aldermanic ticket appear to have selected the time men who would be the strongest at the polls on election day. Messrs. Connors, Daly and Gallagher who have had previous experience in the upper board ran particularly

6 O'CLOCK ARTIST HAD $12,000 His Body Was Found Packed in a Trunk

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—At the time of the disappearance of Albert Callier, the artist, whose body the police say was found packed in a trunk in the basement of a house last week, he had between $10,000 and $12,000. It was learned today. The police have been informed also that Callier and William Lewis, his friend, in whose trunk the body was found, were attentive to the same woman.

An intimate friend of Callier said that in June, 1909, the artist told him that his brother had just sent a ticket for Paris and between $10,000 and $12,000. Callier, he said, did not return to France but dropped out of sight. Soon after that time Irene Callier, his brother's wife, with whom he had associated in an ivory company in Sierra Leone, on the west coast of Africa, came to New York and searched in vain for his brother.

OVERTIME WORK In the Belvidere Woolen Mills

Business is rushing at the plant of the Belvidere Woolen Mfg. Co., in Howe street and in order to keep up with the work on hand it will be necessary to run three nights a week, Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights until 9 o'clock.

CITY HALL NOTES

On the first day of the current month the city was $387,211.11 from the debt limit.

This was pay day at city hall and the city treasurer's office was a busy place.

The proudest man at city hall today was Purchasing Agent Mackenzie. The early morning mail brought him a small package containing a piece of stone marked "genuine Plymouth rock."

When the firemen had their convention in Lowell, Mr. Mackenzie met G. H. Bartlett, electrician, for the fire department of Plymouth, and they took quite a "shine" to each other. On leaving Lowell, Mr. Bartlett told Mr. Mackenzie that he would send him a little piece of genuine Plymouth rock, which he said he would chip from a piece of the rock that had been in his family for years. The much cherished souvenir arrived this morning and Mr. Mackenzie wouldn't part with it for more than ten times its weight in gold.

As a result of a conference with Mrs. James J. McCarthy and G. Forrest Martin, last evening, Mayor John F. Meehan will call special meetings of both branches of the city government for Friday night of the present week. Joint communications will be sent to the upper and lower boards, concerning the urgent necessity of a contagious hospital for the city, as outlined at the conference of the boards of health and charities, Monday evening last, and the sum of $50,000 will be asked.

At the office of the inspector of buildings this forenoon there was granted to Fisher Wolfe a permit to build a four family house in Grand street. The house will be 48 by 61 feet, two stories, and the estimated cost is $2000.

Mayor Meehan Grateful

In conversation with a reporter of The Sun today, Mayor Meehan said he was very grateful to the democrats for their manifestation of loyalty at the polls yesterday. "I wish," said the mayor, "that you would thank the democrats through your paper for the splendid vote they gave me yesterday. I am proud of the magnificent vote tendered me and I look for a clean democratic sweep on election day."

SODA FOUNTAIN CO.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—The stockholders of the American Soda Fountain Co., met today in the office of C. K. King in Jersey City, N. J., and voted to continue the old management in office. It had been announced that the election of the board of directors would be fought by some of the dissatisfied holders of stock but when the meeting was held those opposed to the men slated for election merely refrained from voting after they had expressed their dissatisfaction with the way the business had been recently conducted.

SUPERIOR COURT STEAMSHIP OCEANIC

In Collision With a Small Vessel but Was Not Damaged

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—The Oceanic of the White Star line from Southampton was in collision with a smaller vessel while on her way up the bay from quarantine this morning. The collision occurred off Robin's Reef. It is believed that the Oceanic was not seriously damaged. She stood by to render necessary assistance to the other vessel. The collision was between the Oceanic and a tow comprising a tug and two barges, the Morning Star and Star of the East. The latter barge was struck and so badly damaged that she became waterlogged. It is believed that no lives were lost but the Oceanic lowered one of her boats in readiness to give aid to any of the barge crew endangered as a result of the crash.

Attorney Files Petition in Her Behalf

WHEELING, W. Va., Nov. 23.—Declarations that Mrs. Laura F. Schenk, accused of attempting to murder her husband, John C. Schenk, is illegally deprived of her liberty and that the special grand jury which indicted her was illegal, made up the tenor of the six special pleas which Mrs. Schenk's attorneys entered before Judge Gordon this forenoon. In addition Mrs. Schenk entered a formal plea of not guilty to each of the counts of the indictment. Attorneys for Mrs. Schenk announced they were prepared to furnish bail for their client in any reasonable amount.

INSTANTLY KILLED Man Fell From Twelfth Story of a Building

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 23.—Falling from the twelfth story of the Land & Trust Co. skyscraper building at Broad and Chestnut streets, Henry C. Brewer, 40 years old, met death almost instantly today. He was seen hanging from a window sill by a scrubwoman and just as she screamed from fright Brewer let go and fell to a one-story shed in the rear of the high building. Brewer was a credit adjuster employed by a firm having offices in the building. The police say there is no doubt that Brewer committed suicide and they are investigating to determine what led to his act.

THE FIRE DEPT. Summoned to Blaze in Kinsman Street

An alarm from box 37 at 3.54 o'clock this afternoon summoned a portion of the fire department to a slight blaze in a bed in a house at 49 Kinsman street, which is owned by P. Maguire and occupied by John McInerney and family. The cause of the fire is not known but it is thought that children playing with matches were responsible. When the firemen arrived on the scene the bedclothing was ablaze, but a stream from an extinguisher put an end to it.

EMPIRE THEATRE

The holiday bill at this cozy little playhouse contains some of the finest vaudeville acts on the stage today. The feature is the "Three Italian Troubadours," in a feast of melody and mirth each and every artist of this clever trio being a soloist and a graduate of grand opera. Gracey and Burnett, in their comic comedy sketch, need no introduction to the Lowell public, and Frank Barry can safely claim the title of king of monologists.

ROBINSON ARRESTED

BOSTON, Nov. 23.—Elmer Robinson, formerly of Saco, Me., was arrested today charged with attempting to deceive the government in relation to his age in a civil service examination. Robinson claimed that he was 40 years of age but the government declares that he is five years older.

INDICTMENTS REPORTED

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—The federal grand jury today returned an indictment against Frank Watrous, president, the Rev. Claude M. Severance, and the other members of El Progresso Bananera company of Honduras and the International Finance company, charging them with using the mails to defraud investors in the stock of the Bananera company. The defendants appeared in the criminal branch of the United States circuit court and entered tentative pleas of "not guilty." The prisoners renewed their bonds for examination and were released.

LAWSON EXPLAINS POSITION

BOSTON, Nov. 23.—The reason Thomas W. Lawson did not attend the hearing before a master on Monday in connection with the various suits instituted by P. Augustus Helms against a number of Boston brokers was brought out today in a hearing before Justice Drury of the supreme court on a petition to arrest Mr. Lawson on a capias. Mr. Lawson's counsel it was stated was informed that Mr. Lawson's testimony could not be taken on the day set and that, consequently, he need not appear. Mr. Lawson had no intention of disregarding a legal summons, his counsel said. Mr. Lawson will be in court on Friday when the hearing is to be resumed. If he is present at that time the proceedings brought against him will be dismissed.

GEN. REYES ON WAY TO MEXICO TO LEAD REVOLT

General Reyes, once a business intruder, proposed his name as vice president. Subsequent events appeared to prove that Reyes, while avowing among the Mexicans that he had already taken passage for New York and would reach Eagle Pass within ten days, Reyes was governor of Nuevo Leon, the hotbed of revolution in Mexico, during the last campaign for president of Mexico some of his ad-

THE PRIMARIES

Continued

Although the weather was unfavorable a large vote was cast by both parties, but there was little or no excitement through the day. An unusually large crowd gathered at City Hall, last night to hear the returns. The first returns came in shortly before 10 o'clock and by midnight all results were known.

The vote by wards for both parties is given below:

ON WILD RAMPAGE

London Suffragettes in Fury Wreck Asquith Residence

Secretary Birrell Attacked, Kicked and Badly Injured—Women Appear in Court With Clothing Ready to go to Jail

LONDON, Nov. 23.—The rioting of the suffragettes which began with an assault on Premier Asquith yesterday, continued throughout the night. Driven from one district so many of the women as escaped arrest would gather at another point and renew the battle. Advancing under cover of the fog at 2.30 o'clock this morning a militant band circumvented the police and stormed the Asquith residence in Downing street. They hurled bricks and metal weights at the house, breaking the glass in all of the lower windows.

Battle in the night the women smashed the windows in the homes of Sir Edward Grey, the foreign secretary, Lewis Harcourt, secretary of state for the colonies, and Winston Spencer Churchill, the home secretary.

Augustine Birrell, the veteran chief secretary for Ireland, was the victim of the most vicious and serious assault. As a result of injuries from kicks and blows the old man is today confined to his bed and under the care of doctors. He has been compelled to cancel all engagements.

Mr. Birrell was making his way on foot through St. James park to the Athenium club when he was set upon by the women and assaulted. After being soundly beaten, policemen rescued him and took him to his home in a motor car.

One hundred and fifty-six women and two men who took part in yesterday's riots were arraigned in the Bow street police court today. At the direction of Home Secretary Churchill, those charged merely with obstruction were discharged. The others, against whom complaints of assault and the wilful damage of property have been made were returned to jail to be held for sentence later.

Most of the women prisoners appeared in court carrying bags containing a change of clothing, hopeful of the glory of martyrdom in jail. Some brought their knitting and plying their needles busily during the proceedings greatly amused the galaxy of nondescript spectators who frequent the court.

Among those held for punishment was Mrs. Haverfield, daughter of Lord Abinger, who, according to the testimony introduced, had promised to bring a revolver with her on the occasion of the suffragette demonstration.

HARVARD GLEE CLUB

There's a treat in store for the people of this city, on next Tuesday evening, when the combined glee and musical clubs of the Harvard university will visit this city for the purpose of giving a "Harvard Night." The club is brought here through the influence of the Lowell Harvard club, and this city is fortunate in getting the club for the concert, inasmuch as the schedule is prepared far in advance and the committee generally favors the cities of the south and west, because of the fact that the people in the east consider it almost as a "home affair" and do not respond with the patronage that the traveling club needs. In compliance with the traveling club's policy for this season the promoters have booked a few cities in this state and much influence had to be brought to bear on them for the considering of this few, Lowell, thanks to the energy of the local graduates, will be able to hear the college songs sung with a vim and vigor which can only be wrought by living among college environments and it is hoped that the people will show their appreciation by attending the entertainment. Additional to the concert program which will begin at 8 o'clock, there will be general dancing after the entertainment.

Harvard songs, old and new, will be sung and the yell which has been heard but seldom heard by many will be given. Everything which tends to show "senior, junior, soph and freshman" feeling which generates through the college in the shape of a song has been placed upon the program.

Many prominent students will be with the clubs, including Minnie and Smith, the football players, Alan Gregg of the Lamson, brother of Rev. James R. Gregg of this city, and S. B. Steele who led the singing at the Harvard-Yale game.

ARMY AND NAVY FOOTBALL TEAMS TO MEET IN ANNUAL BATTLE

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 23.—When the football teams of the Naval and Military academies meet here on Franklin field Nov. 26 the event will be a more brilliant social one than usual, but it is admitted on all sides that as a purely athletic contest the game will outrank any of its predecessors. Though in many previous years either the Army or Navy or both have put teams of high caliber on the field, in no year have both teams played such consistently good ball through the season and appeared to be so equally matched. West Point, with a decisive victory over Yale and a close game against Harvard to its credit, has undoubtedly a greater record behind it, but those who have noticed the work of the Annapolis eleven know that it has developed slowly but strongly and has been playing a better game each week. This year's game will be the fifteenth between the teams of the two service schools. Of the fourteen that have preceded it the Military academy has won seven, the Naval academy has won six, and one has been a tie. Games have taken place each year since the resumption except last year, when it was canceled because of the death of Cadet Byrne of the Army.

McMAHON—The funeral of the late James McMahon took place this morning at 8.30 o'clock from his home, 35 Sarah avenue, and was largely attended by sorrowing friends and relatives including a number from out of town. Among the latter were Mrs. Bridget and Miss Elizabeth Burton of Schenectady, N. Y. Mr. and Mrs. Forger of Watertown, Mass. and Mr. John McMahon of Boston. At 9 o'clock a mass of requiem was sung at St. Patrick's church by Rev. Joseph Curran. The choir under the direction of Mr. Michael J. Johnson sang the Gregorian mass, the solos being sustained by Miss Alice E. Murphy and Mr. Andrew McCarthy. Mr. Johnson presiding at the organ. There were many beautiful floral tributes including a large pillow inscribed "Iusband and Papa" from the family; large pillow surmounted by crosses and inscribed "At Rest"; Mr. and Mrs. George Conway and Charles and Walter McMahon; large spray, manager and employees of Chelmsford Spring Co.; spray from Miss Alice Casey and a spray from a friend. The bearers were Einar Eklund, John Meeklan, Charles Forsell, P. Hunt, J. V. Claff, and P. McDermott. At the grave Rev. Father Curtin read the committal prayers and the burial was in St. Patrick's cemetery in charge of Undertakers J. F. O'Donnell & Sons.

McCABE—The funeral of Mrs. Ann McCabe took place this morning at 8.30 o'clock from the home of her son, Charles McCabe, 7 Oak street and proceeded to the immaculate Conception church where a high mass of requiem was sung by Fr. McQuade, O. M. I. The choir under the direction of Charles P. Smith, sang the Gregorian mass; Mrs. Hugh Walker, organist. There were many floral pieces. The bearers were Martin J. Heeren, Jas. F. Boyle, Frank McManus and John Winters. Burial took place in the family lot in St. Patrick's cemetery where the committal prayers were read by Fr. McQuade. The funeral was in charge of Funeral Director John P. Rogers.

O. M. I. CADETS

WILL HOLD CELEBRATION THIS EVENING

The O. M. I. Cadets will observe their sixth anniversary in the school hall of the Immaculate Conception parish tonight and a fine time is expected. Every member of the cadets is expected to be present in blue uniform at 7.30 o'clock.

MRS. PANKHURST TO CONTINUE ATTACKS ON PARLIAMENT

LONDON, Nov. 23.—Pity the London "hobby!" He earns his money nowadays, and he is due to earn it for some time to come or until the suffragette army is either defeated or it is granted its demands. Mrs. Pankhurst, who has led so many attacks on the house of parliament, has announced that she

BOWLING GAMES

Some Exciting Contests Last Night

There was something doing on the alleys last night. The bowlers turned out in large numbers and there were many good games played despite the fact that the scores were not high. In the Manchester Unity league series there were two games played. There was a difference of but seven pins in the total pinfall in the game between Excellence and Integrity lodges, the former team having the margin, but Integrity lodge won two of the three points. In the other game Merrimack Valley trounced the life out of Wamsit lodge.

The Knights of Columbus turned the trick on the Belvideres, winning all three strings by a good margin. In the Manufacturers' league series the Boott team put it all over the Hamilton team.

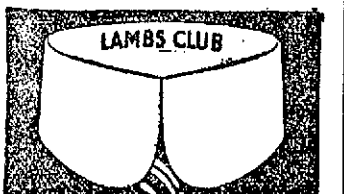

The Uncle Sams traveled, at a fast pace last night and by so doing defeated the Lamson by a good margin. The scores:

TURKEYS SCARCE

National Bird in Demand at 30 Per

Get your turkey quick, they're scarce.

About all the markets in Lowell tell the same story on turkeys; the supply is smaller than last year and the prices run from 30 to 35 cents per pound.

Chickens are going at 22 to 25 cents per pound and ducks at 25 cents.

On a recent visit to relatives in northern New York, Mr. Claude Gardner, the well known produce dealer, became impressed with the fact that the supply of New York turkeys would be scarce and attempted to make a big purchase. He succeeded in securing a limited supply but found it impossible to purchase the number he wanted. He sold his entire consignment before its arrival in this city. The birds arrived Saturday.

At Fairburn's, Putnam's and the other downtown markets The Sun reporter was informed that turkeys are not as plentiful this year as formerly.

JIMMIE GARDNER

Boxes Klaus in Boston Next Tuesday Night

Jimmie Gardner will box Frank Klaus at the Armory club in Boston, next Tuesday and for the past two weeks has been training with Sam Langford, the colored wonder. He will arrive in Lowell today and will complete his training in this city with Joe Thomas and his brothers, Morgan and Billy Gardner.

Those who have watched Jimmy Gardner during the past ten days working out with Sam Langford are confident that there will be a surprise handed to Frank Klaus at the Armory club next Tuesday.

Gardner is in shape, better even than when he stopped the victorious career of Bill McKinnon, and he is eager to show that he can defeat Klaus when he is right.

Sam Langford, who has been working with Jimmy for over a week, says the wise sports who figure Klaus to win easily will get as big a surprise as they did in the Harvard-Yale game.

Gardner will finish his training at Lowell and will be cheered to victory by many of the local sports who believe he is superior to anyone his weight when he is right.

It will prove a sensational bout, one that should be a "corner" from start to finish.

Tom Flanagan of Cambridge will meet the local favorite, Freddie Maguire, in one of the preliminary bouts. Maguire has entirely recovered from his recent illness and will put up the battle of his career. Flanagan has improved greatly since he boxed Maguire in this city and their bout will be a corker.

HEAVY FIGHTING

BARGE WAS LOST

Sunk by the White Star
Oceanic

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—When the White Star Oceanic, from Southampton, was coming up the bay today under reduced speed, she ran into a barge laden with coal and sank it to the bottom. The skipper of the barge, Captain Herman Coutant and his wife were in the cabin when the crash came and their lives were saved because of the quick rush of water through the gaping wound in the barge's side, which forced the couple up through the companionway and into the bay, where they were picked up. The barge, which was in tow of the tug Huntington, was caught in a strong ebb tide and failed to clear the Oceanic's bow.

200,000 KOREANS

SAID TO HAVE AMPUTATED
THEIR TOP KNOTS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—"Rats," "puffs," and "switches," and other such prevalent devices to "improve" on nature may become so cheap as to cease to be a distinguishing mark of the up-to-date lady. This is the comment made by United States Consul Carleton Baker, representative at Antung, China, on the fact that 200,000 Koreans have amputated their top knots since the annexation of Korea by Japan. In consequence of this increased supply of human hair the price has fallen considerably.

The impetus to the false hair business also is remarked upon by Vice-Consul D. F. De Young at Amsterdam, who writes that an order for hair in that city is as promptly and accurately filled as an order for groceries or dry goods.

FOOTBALL NOTES

On Thanksgiving morning the Palmers will play their last game on the gridiron this season and will have for their opponents a picked team from the class of the city. Some of the players come from the North End, the Hesters and other strong amateur teams.

The Palmers have won every game that they played this season and the game on Thursday will be the crowning event of the season. The game will be played on the South common and a most interesting contest is expected. The game will start at 10 o'clock.

Manager Connors will have the best line-up possible for the occasion and will include only members of the Palmers.

CHILDREN'S ENTERTAINMENT

There will be fun galore for the youthful ones tomorrow afternoon in the hall of the new Sacred Heart parochial school on Moore street. Everything which has originated from the creative genius of man for the pleasure and enjoyment of youngsters will be in the hall, and if the youngsters have no other place already in mind for the enjoyment of the holiday, it will pay the fund parents if they take the children to this entertainment for the fun and enjoyment which there can be obtained. The committee in charge has worked untiringly to get entertainers who will differ from those seen at entertainments of this kind. The program will be the best ever offered in this city at a children's entertainment, and should be attended not only by the children of the Sacred Heart parish, but all the children of the city.

THE B. & M. ROAD

Wants to Make New Stock Issue

CONCORD, N. H., Nov. 23.—The board of railroad commissioners gave a hearing today on the petition of the Boston & Maine railroad for permission to issue 106,637 shares of new stock. Robert Jackson of this city appeared as counsel for Clarence E. Carr of Andover, a stockholder, and entered a protest against the proposed issue if its proceeds are to be used in any way for replacements. The hearing is adjourned to await the presentation of evidence by railroad officials.

COST OF BATHS

MAY DEPEND ON OUTCOME OF INVESTIGATION

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—The cost of baths in the future may depend on the outcome of an investigation which was taken up in this city today. The federal government resumed here its action against the so-called bath tub trust, preventing hearings in which have been held in the last two weeks in Pittsburgh and Chicago. At those hearings witnesses representing a number of wholesale houses testified that a combine composed of the Standard Mfg. Co., and sixteen other corporations had attempted to force them into a price-fixing agreement and had refused to sell tubs to those who refused to sign contracts.

Attorney General Wickersham is supervising the case and the hearings are being held before Lindsey C. Spencer, special ambassador.

INCREASE IN WAGES

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Employees of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Co., motormen, conductors, guards, station agents, switchmen and car-barn men, were notified today of a five per cent increase in wages to take effect at once.

It was in the nature of a Thanksgiving day surprise to the men. The company had promised an increase on Jan. 1 but at a special meeting of the board yesterday it was determined to make it go into effect at once, the increase affects from 12,000 to 15,000 men.

PRES. CLOWRY RESIGNS

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Robert C. Clowry, president of the Western Union Telegraph Co., today tendered his resignation to the board of directors and Theodore Vall, president of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co., which controls the Western Union, was appointed to fill the vacancy.

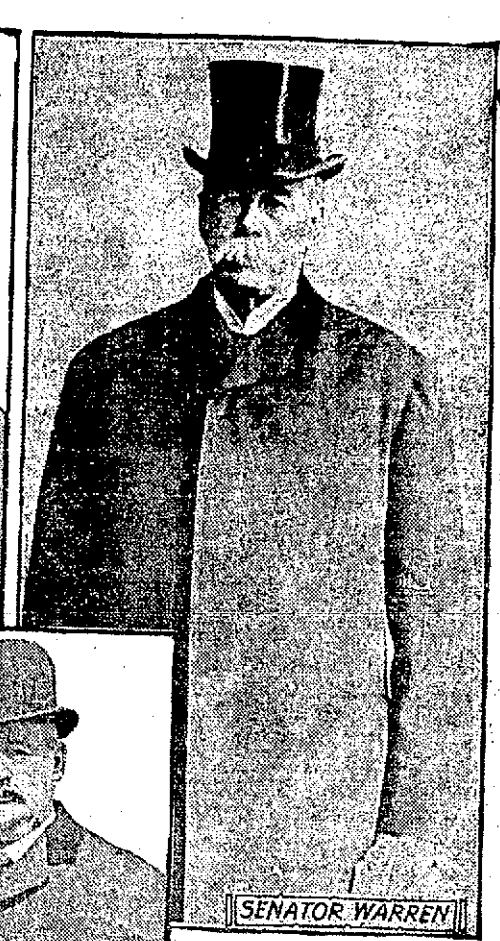

MISS LENEVE DID NOT SAIL

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng., Nov. 23.—So far as can be learned Ethel Clara Leneve did not sail for New York today, although she had booked as a second class passenger on the Majestic under the name of Miss Allan. It is thought that she may have changed her plans after they had been discovered, though it is possible that she will join the vessel at Cherbourg or Queenstown.

SEN. CRANE IS PICKED TO ASSUME ALDRICH LEADERSHIP IN SENATE

SENATOR CRANE

SENATOR WARREN

SENATOR PENROSE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—Well, the king is not dead, after all. He still lives, and he is hard at work trying to find some one to take his place. The king in this case is Senator Aldrich. The senate is to be without the Rhode Island leader, for his term expires, and he announced that he was out of the political game. But this seems to be a joke now—a very big joke—for Aldrich is at work trying to find a new leader for the senate. He has considered six. Three have become public and one of these three may win the prize of the Aldrich mantle. Senators Crane, Penrose and Warren are the three strongest candidates, with the chances favoring Crane. Warren is so far west and is so filled with wool tariffs that Aldrich fears he will not do. Penrose is a typical boss, and Aldrich fears some of the members would object to following his orders. Crane is a politician and a diplomat. He is a close adviser of the president, and the wise politicians of the capitol look to see Crane assume the leadership—that is, if Aldrich approves.

A Decisive Battle is Expected at San Pedro

Flores related to H. W. Dove, collector of customs at Eagle Pass, that Madero crossed the river Sunday morning and was met on the other side by a large band of his followers. They brought with them horses and equipment for Madero and his four lieutenants.

Reports state that a captain was among the killed. Early reports that 300 had been killed are undoubtedly exaggerated.

PRESIDENT TAFT FRANCESCO MADERO

Guest of the People of Richmond

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 23.—President Taft's Richmond hosts had the chief executive bright and early this morning and staffed on a program which gave no promise of a spare moment up to the hour of his scheduled departure for Washington shortly before 6 o'clock this evening. Mr. Taft spent the night at the Jefferson hotel. At 8:30 o'clock this morning he breakfasted with Governor Mann at the executive mansion. A salute of 21 guns was fired by the Richmond Howitzers as the president entered the capitol square. At 1:30 o'clock the president was escorted out Franklin street and Monument to the Jefferson Davis monument. In the shadow of the memorial to the president of the Confederacy he reviewed the cadets of the Virginia polytechnic institute and the Richmond Blues.

Following this ceremony the president was taken for an automobile trip through the beautiful districts surrounding Richmond. He was accompanied by Colonel George McClellan, who pointed out all the places of particular interest.

Mr. Taft was the guest of 250 citizens of Richmond at luncheon at the Jefferson.

This afternoon the entertainment committee planned to take the president for a peep at the local aviation meet, for a few minutes' stop at a football game and then to the city auditorium, where at 4 o'clock the president is scheduled to make an address before the Virginia education conference.

TREADWAY CRITICIZES FOSS

PITTSFIELD, Nov. 23.—Allan Treadway, president of the state senate, in a statement made public today, severely criticized the action of Governor-elect Eugene Foss in declaring political warfare against the re-election of Senator Henry Cabot Lodge. Mr. Treadway says that he endorses the views expressed last night by Speaker Walker of the Massachusetts house of representatives and that personally he believes that the governor-elect has no more right to dictate to the members of the legislature who should be chosen on senator than has a justice of the state supreme court.

Since election Mr. Treadway says he has met all of the senators-elect and he knows that only two of the republican members are opposed to the re-election of Senator Lodge.

REPORTS TO LLOYDS

SHOWS SEVERAL MISHAPS TO AMERICAN SHIP

LONDON, Nov. 23.—Today's reports to Lloyd's show several mishaps to ships from American ports. The British ship Crompton, from Tacoma, June 3, for Queenstown, went ashore in the port of Port Magee, Ireland, and it is expected will be a total wreck. All on board escaped.

The American bark James Johnson, from Sydney for Newcastle, New South Wales, was stranded and lost her boom in collision with the Norwegian ship Havnara, from Buenos Ayres for Newcastle.

The latter vessel's bow was damaged. The British steamer Vauxhall, from

CRIPPEN HANGED

He Made No Confession But Was Calm to the Last

THE LATE DR. HAWLEY HARVEY CRIPPEN.

Story of the Crime and the Sensational Method by Which Dr. Crippen Was Arrested in Canada and Brought Back to London

LONDON, Nov. 23.—Dr. Crippen was hanged at 9.02 o'clock this morning. The announcement was accompanied by the official statement that Dr. Crippen made no statement or confession whatsoever before being executed.

So eager were the authorities to avoid publicity that the usual batch of prisoners whose time had expired were released an hour before the customary time, thus clearing the halls and offices of all outsiders.

The hoisting of a grim black flag which was seen as it shot to its place through a rift in the fog announced to the crowd in the street that Dr. Crippen was dead.

Dr. Crippen was called at an early hour. He dressed himself carefully in his own clothes and announced himself ready some time before the hour fixed upon for the execution.

The last few minutes of the condemned man's life were spent in the company of Father Carey, from whom he received the last rites of the Roman Catholic church.

Some time after the crowd had dispersed a notice was posted on the prison gate announcing that "Judgment of death has this day been executed on H. H. Crippen" in the presence of the governor of the prison, the under sheriff and Father Carey. The physician's certification of death was also displayed. Dr. Crippen presented a pitiable appearance as he was literally hanged throughout the short corridor from the cell to the scaffold. His mental anguish had been too great to be covered up by outward bravery and it was a broken man whom the wardens were obliged to assist up the steps to the drop upon which, once again, the shrinking figure all but collapsed.

The first report that Crippen had met his fate calmly was contradicted by persons who were present in the prison during the man's last hours. The doomed man made a restless night and appeared haggard and worn when awakened from his fitful slumber. He seemed to lose all fortitude as the end approached. A breakfast was brought to him but he left it untouched.

His face was as pale as he was escorted, he headed to the gallows. The gruesome work was soon done. The black cap was quickly drawn over the face, the noose adjusted and the belt drawn.

Crippen, who weighed 140 pounds, was given a drop of seven feet. Death was instantaneous.

From the time that his reprieve was refused, the physician's condition had been one of agonized mental prostration. He would see only Clara Ethel Leneve, love of whom, the crown asserted, was the compelling motive in the murder of his wife, Lawyer Newton, who had made a game fight for his client, and Father Carey, whose ministrations he paid respectful attention to.

The final interview with Miss Leneve yesterday was most painful and already in the shadow of death the convicted murderer made an effort to suppress his emotions upon parting with the girl. During the remainder of the day he was in a state of complete nervous collapse, retiring to his bed utterly despondent.

Now that Dr. Crippen's lips are forever sealed the rumor of a post mortem rumormongers of an eleven-hour confession is at an end. These should be discarded in the knowledge that on Sunday last the condemned man issued a signed statement in which he protested his complete innocence and that since that day, as for several days before, he had positively refused to see anyone other than his keepers, Solicitor Newton, Miss Leneve and Father Carey.

Accordingly, the testimony of only these persons would appear. To be of weight in throwing light on the condemned man's last hours. This morning, following the execution, the prison authorities issued a statement declaring that no confession had been made. Miss Leneve denies that Crippen confessed. His attorney says that as far as he knows his client maintained his innocence to the last.

Story of the Crime

The execution of Dr. Hawley Harvey Crippen in London today completed the criminal records of one of the most sensational of recent murder cases. The brutality of the crime committed by a man who had been known as of a gentle and kindly nature, the murderer's spectacular flight to his native land and the fact that the case against the doctor was purely circumstantial combined to make the tragedy of absorbing interest not only in England where the murder was done, but as well in America where both Crippen and his wife were born.

Crippen, slight in figure, was just past fifty years of age. He was born in Michigan and after studying medicine practiced in the United States and Canada. In 1906 he married Cora Mackintosh of Brooklyn, a vaudeville actress, whose stage name was Bell Kildare. They moved to London where the doctor engaged in dental manufacture. Soon there was domestic infidelity, due, Crippen alleged, to attentions his wife received from other men. Then Ethel Clara Leneve, a prepossessing woman now about 27 years of age entered Crippen's employ as a typist. She sympathized with the doctor and the two fell in love. Meanwhile Crippen and his wife were living in a house in the Strand, London.

Nearly a year ago Miss Leneve, leaving her position, became impatient with the situation. About the same time the doctor was in need of money. Crippen disappeared suddenly last February. His husband inserted a death notice in the papers saying that she had succumbed to an illness while visiting in California. Actress friends of Mrs. Crippen persuaded Scotland Yard to make an investigation and the police officials interviewed Crippen on July 12. He threw the police off the scent but on the following day fled from London in company with Miss Leneve who was disguised as a boy. Subsequently their presence on board the steamer Montrose was made known to Scotland Yard through wireless messages and as the Montrose was approaching the harbor of Quebec, Crippen and Miss Leneve were arrested. This was on July 31.

In the meantime the police had visited the Crippens in their flat in the Strand and in the cellar of the flat had found a woman's body. The medical experts who examined these parts were never able anatomically to prove that they were from the body of Belle Elmore. Nevertheless the jury that heard the Crippen case was satisfied that they were.

Crippen was indicted and convicted of the murder of his wife, the evidence including testimony that he had bought and administered poison after which he disappeared. He was sentenced to hang on Nov. 8, but secured a stay of execution until today. An appeal on his behalf was denied by the Criminal Court of Appeals and a petition for a reprieve was rejected by Home Secretary Churchill.

Miss Leneve was indicted and charged as an accessory after the fact but was acquitted.

ALCOHOL IN MEDICINES

Alcohol is the best known preservative of medical compounds, and the average proprietary medicine contains from 1 per cent to 22 per cent, which is the smallest possible amount to preserve the ingredients, while the average doctor's prescription contains from 25 per cent to 50 per cent.

Such standard preparations as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound contain but 18 per cent, and they even put the Compound up in tablet form, which the over-scrupulous woman, who objects to alcohol in any degree, may use.

20 AEROPLANES

Ordered By Prince Henry of Prussia

BERLIN, Nov. 22.—Prince Henry of Prussia has sent an order to the United States for an even score of aeroplanes. While the Wright brothers have a German representative, Prince Henry is ordering other types of machines. He is said to have secured two unknown makes, aeroplanes invented by dreamers. The prince is going on the theory that he can afford to waste a few thousand dollars on each machine rather than miss the chance of getting the best. The emperor is as much interested in the flying machines as the prince, but he has not attempted to fly, while the prince takes almost daily trips, operating three different types of machines with all the skill of a veteran. Prince Henry expects to have a squad of forty men who will drill in the air with as much skill as if they were cavalrymen.

$25,000 A YEAR

IS ALLOWANCE SOUGHT FOR SUPPORT OF BOY

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—An allowance of $25,000 a year for the support of a boy of 10 is sought in an application in the surrogate's court yesterday.

The boy is Elton Tilford Dickinson, whose grandfather, Wesley Hunt Tilford, left him $4,000,000 of the fortune he made through his connection with the Standard Oil company.

The boy has an income of $50,000 a year and his father, A. G. Dickinson of New York, thinks he ought to have $25,000 of it to live on. Surrogate Colahan said he thought $5000 a year would be about right, but reserved formal decision.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

Wouldn't it jar your artistic soul to play to the Opera House to witness a play that is positively a dramatic treat and find only a small audience in attendance?

Robert H. Davis' celebrated home-spun drama in two acts, "The Family," was the attraction last evening, and it justified all the good things that are said of it. It was presented by a thoroughly first class company and was excellently staged. It will be presented twice today and should draw crowded houses. The cast is as follows:

John Sneed.....William Edwards
Mary Sneed.....Mabel Bert
David Sneed.....Muriel Starr
Ruth Sneed.....John Westley
Paul Churchill.....Zillah Lee Shannon
Paul Churchill.....Earle Ryder

The play as its name implies is purely a family affair and is done in a natural family manner. Motherly love is the predominating feature of the play and hence one may expect to find the critics back an erring daughter and reuniting a scattered family. The dialog is excellent, including the high vernacular that is frequently employed and while containing much of the pathetic, the play admits a quiet humor that is most enjoyable.

John Sneed appears in the leading male role, the boy of the family, and a real one too. He's the sports kid who wants the world to believe him real tough though underneath the veneer he possesses the real goods. Westley interpreted the character in faultless manner.

Muriel Starr, as "Madeline Sneed," the erring daughter who "went daffy" over a minstrel show drum major, had some emotional work which she did gracefully.

Mabel Bert was a loving and lovable mother of the family, while Sam Edwards did the sportsy father to perfection.

Miss Shannon interpreted the part of "Ruth Sneed," the younger daughter in excellent manner and in fact there was not a weak spot in the cast.

"The Family" is a play of a class too rarely seen. It is not intense or melodramatic and yet it is not simply superficial. It points a moral along with being entertaining and it sends the audience away with pleasing thoughts and a contented mind.

"THE FINAL SETTLEMENT," a drama of "American Social Life," will be the attraction at the Opera House on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week with daily matinees.

A problem play of more than passing interest. It points a strong moral lesson, depicting as it does the far-reaching consequences that oft times follow the sudden acquisition of wealth and power.

The smoothly running lines tell in an engrossing fashion of the rise of a brilliant and ambitious young mechan-

DOCKSTADER

Lew Dockstader's "Twentieth Century Minstrels" will be the attraction at the Opera House, Monday, Nov. 23, presenting "The Possum Hunt Club Revue." Dockstader's company has been augmented since he was last known vocalist. The musical numbers of the entertainment are said to be of singular beauty and musical excellence, and the entire show has been made on a scale bigger and better than the former high standard Dockstader set for his show.

Among the singers are Charles Falk, Harry A. Ellis, Tom McKenna, Allan Campbell, Louis F. Murr and Willie Smith. Travelestes on "Pinafore" and "Chautauque" are introduced during the entertainment.

"THE STAMPEDE"

The simulation of a vast herd of wild terrified cattle on the stampede will be given for the first time on any stage, when the new and original comedy-drama by Cecil B. DeMille and Lillian Buckingham, entitled "The Stampede," is produced. It is an absolute novelty in stage realism and no description is adequate to describe the impression the scene creates. The play is of western origin and competent judges say it is on a par with "Strongheart." It will introduce Miss Buckingham as a star, supported by her own company, and in the role of a half-breed Indian girl, will be given an exceptional chance to show dramatic power. "The Stampede" comes to the Opera House Nov. 23-30.

HATHAWAY THEATRE

The richest slice of Scotch comedy ever served to a local audience is that being given by Peter Donald and Meta Carson, one of the Scotch acts at Hathaway's theatre, this week.

The Ellis-Nowlan troupe of 12 acrobats give the prolonged scream entitled "Fun in a Fire House." The whirlwind comedy hasn't been applied since Karno's "English Music Hall" act was here. The horses which appear in the act are thorough-going comedians. The Four Grohins give a European novelty act which is sensational. Jerge & Hamilton appear in a vaudeville mixture, and the other acts are of the same order.

"My Wife's Butler," Princess, in a singing and dancing novelty; the 15 Dorothy puddles, and the motion pictures.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

There will be an entire change of program Thanksgiving and one of the best shows ever offered for a nickel or a dime will be presented. There will be four strong vaudeville acts Loyd & Clafano, singing and talking; Edward Todd, comedian; and Lew Welch and company in "Levine Says Old Shoes," which is very funny, and the four Stagpooles, European comedy acrobats. Then four reels of pictures, which include some of the best comedy pictures ever shown at this house.

The bill will last for the next three days, Friday evening, Saturday night, and Sunday afternoon. Every person who attends the show the balance of the week is sure to get his money's worth three times over. This is the last day to hear the Cow-boys' quartet and the monkeys. Take it in today. Remember there are four good shows tomorrow.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

The sort of an entertainment bill that will just top off a good Thanksgiving dinner is being presented at the Merrimack Square theatre this week. By the way, if you are thinking of taking in the show Thursday afternoon or evening, better purchase your tickets today. They are on sale.

SICK CHILD--WORMS

Thousands of children have worms but their parents do not know it. Fessenden's WORM EXPULSER.

Mother, buy it for the child's sake, only 25c at all druggists. Nothing else like it.

But to the show. It is the snappiest holiday offering ever, full of good things to appeal to every taste. Kennedy and Lillies head the program. They are "the college boys," and the real thing, too.

"The Wildflower" is the sort of a one act play that will just suit, for it is a dainty love story of an Indian maiden, filled with plenty of bright comedy, but with a serious undertone which gives the theme unusual strength.

Tom Nateman, the Sultar Boy, is an unusually clever comedian and excellent singer. The Three Ross Sisters are charming soubrettes better than the best, and The Rosses, who are no relation to the sisters, by the way, are singers of ability. There are numerous films of the best moving pictures also.

THEATRE VOYONS

Tomorrow the Theatre Voyons offers a real life picture that is destined to remain a classic for many years, for it pictures the city of Lisbon during the Portuguese revolution and in a very clear and interesting manner it shows the birth of the new government, the scenes in the principal streets at the barricades and among the camps of the insurgents, the destruction wrought when the city was bombarded, the excited populace and the way that greeted their popular heroes, the officers of the new government, King Manuel, the deposed ruler, and many other interesting sidelights on the change from a king governed country to a republic are clearly shown.

A second picture of interest will be a drill of military experts in Belgium, a wonderful exhibition of training and skill in handling bicycles. The dramatic subjects are excellent and the whole program distinctly worth while.

COLONIAL THEATRE

One of the best bills ever presented is certainly at the Colonial theatre this week, if appreciative audiences count for anything. Everyone seems pleased. Cunningham and Farley are certainly the limit as fun makers. Even a stone image must laugh at them. The Morins are as ever, clever, laughable and interesting. You don't go to sleep while they are working. But Bertini is the puzzle. He seems to be able to get out of everything, even trouble. Last night, the well known blacksmith, Jas. Binkley riveted a pair of shackles on his legs and in less than three minutes he was out of them. Local officers have handcuffed him, but it makes no difference, he escapes from them. Florence Mann retains her reputation for singing and the pictures are of the same high quality. Thanksgiving day will see a special program of high order.

CUBS FINED $200

BECAUSE THEY BUNCOED THE OTTAWA FANS

CINCINNATI, Nov. 23.—Because brothers of John Evers and Arthur Hofman represented these players when the Chicago National league team played at Ottumwa, Ia., on Sept. 9, the National baseball commission yesterday fined the Chicago club $200. The claim of the Ottumwa management for damages was disallowed, because the home team allowed the game to go on and profited by it.

The commission's findings say that the attention of the commission was called to this case by F. T. Lynch, president of the Ottumwa club, who charged that that club and its patrons were deliberately duped by the Chicago National League club. The prices of admission, on the assurances that the Chicago club would send the best line-up that Manager Chance could muster, were fixed at $1 and $1.25 each. The Chicago club was paid $1500 as its part of the receipts.

Dr. Greene's NERVURA

Blood Nerve Remedy

SALLOW

Pale and Thin Faces Made Fresh and Fair by Dr. Greene's NERVURA.

If your face is growing pale, and your cheek bones prominent, you have poor blood, you are anemic. One doctor will tell you one thing and another doctor another thing to do to get better; but you won't get better by using ordinary methods. Dr. Greene's NERVURA is the medicine that is sure to build you up and give your cheeks the pretty lines of perfect health. It has been helping women for a score of years. It is a wonderful strengthening.

Mrs. K. Thell, 257 Springfield Ave., Newark, N. J., says: "I believe Dr. Greene's NERVURA blood and nerve remedy to be the best medicine on earth for women, and I have no hesitation in telling my experience with it. I was very much run down, I was pale and thin and suffered continually with headache. I was just at that age that is so dangerous for women, and I was so nervous that I doubted to take something to build me up. My daughter was taking Dr. Greene's NERVURA blood and nerve remedy, and it was doing her so much good, I believed it would be the best medicine I could take. After taking it I am convinced that there is nothing like it for women, and I shall recommend NERVURA to all as a great strength-giver."

Don't be pale and bloodless and weak when you are sure to be helped by Dr. Greene's NERVURA if you will try it. The reputation of this marvelous medicine as a flesh builder is world wide. Begin it now. Dr. Greene's advice is free at 34 Temple Place, Boston, Massachusetts. Call or write.

PARTICULAR.
Young Wife—John, dear, are you fond of oysters on the shell?
"Yes, dearie, but don't stuff the turkey with the hulls, you know."

THE DAY IN DIXIE.
Uncle Ephraim (at the table)—I'll sho' do mah part on dis Thanksgiving day; but, bress mah ole hawt, when I's cyarvin' dat bird it'll mak' mah mouf watah wishin' it wus possum.

A DAY AFTER.
For rkey meat I passed my plate Just twice;
My love for dressing I did sate But thrice.
The pudding I can only state Was nice.
Alas, today I have to pay—
Dry toast is all I crave—and wait—
One slice.

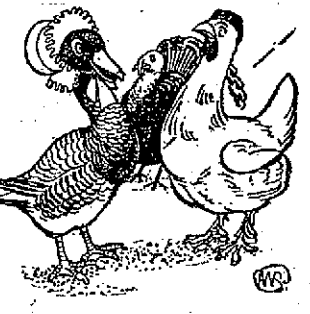

THE SHADOW BEFORE.
The kobbler spread himself and squaked that he felt cold.
"They'll make it hot for you Thanksgiving," cackled the hen.

REALLY MEANT.
Cook—My, but you're the plump, fat one!
Turkey—Go 'way! You're stuffing me!

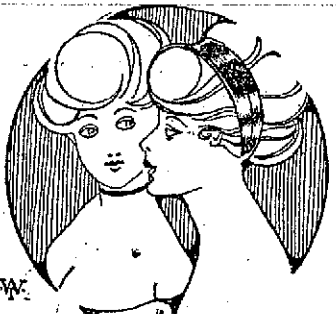

LIMITED THANKFULNESS.
Your gratitude men will remember With feelings of doubt and of fear
If you're thankful one day in November
And kicking the rest of the year.

"ARE YOU LOOKING FOR ME, LITTLE BOY?"

PRIDE GOETH BEFORE A FALL.
Mrs. Chick—That turkey bird is awfully swelled up.
Mrs. Goosey—Yes; he's got it so bad he is about to lose his head.

SOCIAL SLASHES.
Miss Gabber—Miss Highbob says you're crazy.
Miss Culshaw—No wonder. When I met her on the avenue my head was turned.

THE DAY AFTER.
Nothing to hear but grunts;
Nothing to pick but bones;
Nothing to eat but soup.

JOHNNY'S THANKSGIVING.
A turkey dinner Johnny ate.
A partial list we print
Of wings and joints, dark meat and white.
And fixings without stint:
Three kinds of pie, ice cream and cake,
With candy all combined,
He stowed away to testify
His thankful frame of mind.
And cleaned him up on top of the place.
A mother turkey took his neck
A check his drumsticks ate.
Sir Gobbler carved his juicy breast.
He felt himself all fluffed and trussed
Just as the print does here.
His tables turned at two a.m.

HOW SHE WON HIM.
"What became of the Williby girl that Gawkins flirted with at the summer hotel?"
"You mean the girl he thought he flirted with? She married him."

BARNYARD GOSSIP.

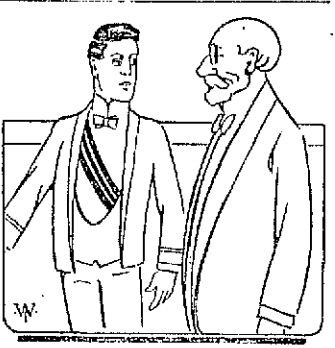

"If my memory serves me they will not put on quite so many airs about Thanksgiving time."

THANKS, AWFULLY.
Thankful for prosperity;
Thankful for a bed all night;
Thankful for the turkey meat;
Thankful for the appetite.

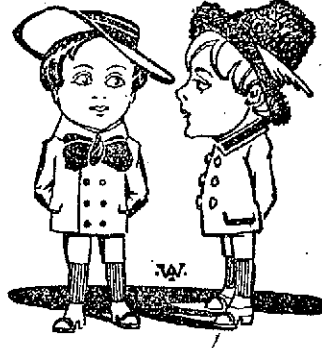

ADMONITORY.
List, little Claribel, list!
Though perhaps 'tis waning breath—
Thanksgiving does not consist
In stuffing yourself to death.

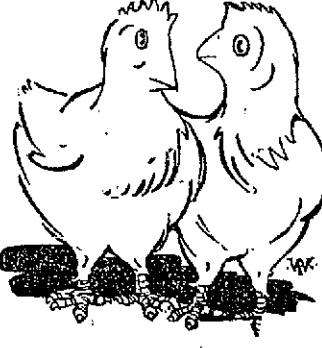

POINTING HER OUT.
First Nighter—Usher, can you tell me where my wife is seated?
"Second row on the first aisle, seven hats to the right."

THE PARSON'S HUNGRY DAY.
It was a turkey dinner, an' the parson asked a blessing.
Said he, "I like the turkey—all, an' don't despise the dressin'."
The way that turkey vanished was a caution to behold,
And many good old stories at the feast the parson told.

GETTING A BRACER.
Johnny—Paw lingered a long time on the blessing today, didn't he?
Dick—He knowed he had the turkey to carve, and he ain't very good at it.

AN OLD SPORT.
Miss Leghorn—Tom Turk has got to be a rowdy.
Miss Flyn Rock—That's only a stall. He thinks that if everybody calls him tough he'll be passed up at Thanksgiving.

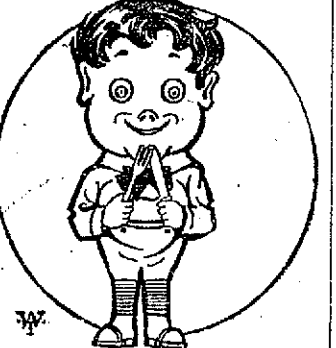

THE CONTINUOUS BIRD.
Thanksgiving turkey, you
Play many parts, 'tis true—
First come you into view
Whole.
Friday from off your chest
They trim the tender breast—
Nobly you stand the test
Sliced.

Saturday back again,
Bony, and, oh, so plump,
But you are not in vain
Stewed.
Turkey, ah, fading bird!
Down in the kettle stirred,
Known only by the word
Soup!

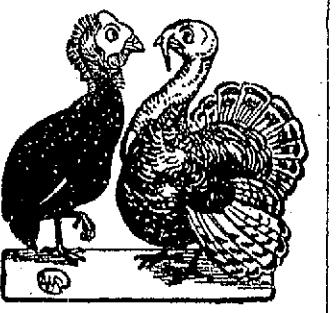

SACRIFICIAL.
"Limpy, I don't see ez youse enny good to sasslety."
"Say, Fuzzy, I'll ov de mince pie an' cold turkey, dat I'll store away in de next few days. Dat means less intjestin' fer udder folks. See?"

CLEVER.
"He's a clever man."
"So?"
"Yes; he can carve a turkey without standing up to do it."

JOY FOR THE BOY.
Thanksgiving is a dandy time.
I rush and get a seat
At table when the turkey's on
And eat and eat and eat.

AVIATION OF THE GOBBLER.
The Guinea—This ostrich needn't plume itself. It is not up to date.
National Food Bird—That's right. It ought to come around to the fowl yard the day before Thanksgiving and see the feathers fly.

The Gobblers "In this age of the horseless carriages let me suggest a turkey-less Thanksgiving."

THE DAY WE FEED.
Thanksgiving day, Thanksgiving day,
We'll celebrate the same old way—
We'll eat and eat and all get gay,
But shall we ever think to pray?

TEASING OLD GOBBLES.
"Well, little boy, is there anything I can do for you?"
"Oh, yes! If you would only try to make your legs grow bigger! Mamma promised them to me for Thanksgiving."

What Appealed to Him.
The First Actor—Fve got a ripping part, old chap.
The Second Actor—Good pay?
The First Actor—No, not much pay, but there's a real pudding in the last act!

The Only Way.
She (in hobble skirt)—My dear man, I can't possibly walk in my new frock. You'll simply have to give me a motor-car.

WILSON IS FREE

Through the Aid of His Wife

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 23.—Released from the Eastern penitentiary yesterday morning after a sentence of 3½ years for forgery, rearrested as he started to walk away with his wife, held for requisition papers from Cedar Rapids, Ia., and finally discharged by the local authorities late yesterday afternoon, after his wife had telegraphed $300 to the Iowa city and the charge against him there of passing a fraudulent check on a hotel had been quashed, is the record of Henry M. Wilson, alias Mortimer, of New London, N. H.

Arm in arm with the woman, who since his arrest in this city while on their honeymoon has remained constant and has cheered him up by frequent letters, Wilson walked out of the city hall yesterday afternoon a free man. He was arraigned before Magistrate Scott yesterday morning after being arrested at the gates of freedom on the Cedar Rapids warrant and held to await requisition papers. His wife was present at the hearing and, as her husband was led back to a cell, was heard to declare that she would remain loyal to him.

It was not known generally, but early yesterday morning before the formal release of her husband she had telegraphed $300 to Cedar Rapids to cover the charge against him there. The money was received there yesterday morning, but it was afternoon before the machinery of the law could be got working and a message ordering Wilson's release sent to Capt. Souder here.

Shortly after 3 o'clock, when the hearings were over in central station, Souder walked into the room arm in arm with Wilson. Mrs. Wilson was sitting in a corner, silently weeping. When told that her husband was a free man she exclaimed "Thank God," and fainted in his arms.

In 1908, just before he left for Cedar Rapids with his bride, who was the divorced wife of Rev. Frederick Webb, a clergyman of New London, Wilson paid for a suite of rooms at the St. James hotel in this city with a forged check for $300, signed with the name of Curtis Guild, who was governor of Massachusetts. Wilson had been employed as a stenographer by the Ocean Steamship company of Boston, where he is said to have known Gov. Guild personally.

Wilson came here directly after his marriage in Boston and went to Cedar Rapids, where he spent two weeks before going to San Francisco. There he was arrested. He was brought back to this city for the check incident and was sentenced to four years in prison by Justice Wilson, who afterward commuted the sentence to 3½ years. Wilson is said to have been an excellent prisoner. For the past two years he served as a messenger.

While in prison his wife's letters have been his main comfort. She declared at the time of his sentence that she would remain true to him and wait patiently for his return from prison. She kept her word and came to the prison from San Francisco to take him back with her yesterday.

Mrs. Wilson is said to possess a fortune in her own right.

PEARSON STRONG

In Contest for Adjutant General

Practical Politics in this week's issue

has the following:
Gov.-elect Foss exemplified his idea of "persistent, pitiless publicity," this week in connection with the names of the candidates for the position of adjutant general. The story printed in the daily newspapers which discussed the various candidates, mentioning Capt. Walter E. Lombard, Capt. Gardner Pearson of Lowell, Porfirio A. Dyer of Boston and the present adjutant general, William H. Brigham, was printed practically as it came from Mr. Foss' secretary. It was Mr. Foss' way of letting the public know who were under consideration, that he might hear what the public at large thought of the candidates. He heard right away. A ton of bricks were heaved at Adj. Gen. Brigham and most of the bricks were thrown by militia and former militia officers. A few were also heaved to Porfirio Dyer. Capt. Lombard and Pearson came in mostly for boosts. At the present writing it looks very much like Capt. Gardner Pearson for adjutant general.

Gov.-elect Foss has said that he will make no appointments without first acquainting the public with the names of those whom he has under consideration. It is an excellent idea.

DANCING PARTY

Held By the Rexwood Campers Last Night

The Rexwood campers held their annual dancing party last evening in O. U. A. M. hall and a merry crowd thronged the hall.

The campers held forth at Fargo pond during the summer months and they have one of the best camps on the pond, well equipped with all the necessities of camping life.

The hall was prettily decorated with different colored streamers extending from each corner to the centre electric light. A neat little souvenir dance order was presented to each one present.

At eight o'clock a concert program was given by the Colonial orchestra and at 8:30 dancing was in order until midnight. Refreshments were served at intermission. The Colonial orchestra furnished music for dancing.

Those responsible for the success of the affair were the following: General manager, Arthur H. Holstein; assistant general manager, Catherine A. Paul; floor director, Stephen J. Reynolds; assistant floor director, George H. Williams; chief aid, Ella Mulvey; aids, Paul Martin, Lillian Holstein, Arthur Severance, Max Crowley, Peter Hanley, Charles Kirby, Margaret Hennessy, William Murray, Emma Sullivan, Michael O'Loughlin, Lillian Mone, James O'Dea, Lillian McKenna and treasurer, Charles Noonan.

SHOCKING DEATH

NUN WAS KILLED IN AN ELEVATOR ACCIDENT

MANCHESTER, N. H., Nov. 23.—Sister Mary Coletta (Barry), of the order of the Sisters of Mercy, whose funeral took place at Mount St. Mary's convent yesterday morning, met a shocking death, the details of which came to light yesterday.

It occurred Sunday afternoon at the convent. Sister Coletta was on the top floor of the main academy building and, wishing to descend, she reached for the elevator cable and gave it an upward tug. Thinking the elevator was on the floor below, she looked down the well. The elevator was at the top of the well and as she leaned over it struck her with terrible force. Death was probably instantaneous.

A solemn requiem mass was sung at the chapel yesterday by Rev. Daniel F. Collier, assisted by Rev. E. P. Farrell and deacon and Rev. James Leidy assisted in singing the mass. Interment was made in St. Joseph's cemetery in the lot of the Sisters of Mercy. The bearers were Daniel P. Shea, Denis J. Sheehan, Michael T. Burke and William F. Clancy.

Sister Coletta was a native of Marlboro, Mass.

Y. M. C. I. SOCIAL
The Young Men's Catholic Institute, noted for its "good times," is to hold its annual Thanksgiving Eve social in Associate hall tonight. It is the usual custom of this popular organization to put on an entertainment at the social, but the annual minstrel show of the society will be given in a few weeks, so it was decided to dispense with this part of the program and dancing will be the feature from 8 o'clock until midnight. Souvenir programs will be given at the door.

A BOSTON GIRL

Asks That Search Be Made for Father

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 23.—Among the letters received yesterday at the office of John B. Taylor, superintendent of police, was a pathetic appeal from a Boston girl asking that a search be made for her father.

The writer of the letter says she had communicated with the police "on the sly," because her father and mother were divorced and her mother told her that she should never want to see her father again. But the girl, Ida Shar, 17 years of age, apparently wants to see her father again, for she asks in the letter that the police tell him that she will forgive him for everything if he will only come and see her. Her letter in part follows:

"I have not seen my father since I was 12 years of age. I do not know what it is to have a father. My mother secured a divorce from my papa and she never wants us to see him again. I understand that he has a second wife now and is living in your city. If you find him tell him that his daughter is yearning to see him. Tell him I will forgive all if I could only see him. My mother does not know about this letter. When you find him try and learn from him his thoughts regarding his first wife and children he left to the mercy of the cruel world when he went away. I work now and help keep my mother. My father has relatives who live in 3d street, near Bainbridge.

"Miss Ida Shar."
The police are searching for Shar, but have little hope of finding him unless the girl will send more details of his description.

PRICE OF MEAT

TAKES QUITE A DROP IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—The consumer yesterday for the first time felt the benefit of the recent much heralded reduction in the price of meat. Various retailers marked down their prices on beef, mutton and pork from half a cent to two cents a pound, following the announcement of the packers that a similar cut had been made in wholesale prices.

Some markets declined to meet the cut, declaring they had not yet been given any reduction in the wholesale prices, but prominent retailers predicted the reduction would be general in a few days.

While meat prices came down, turkey prices went up. Turkeys quoted at 18 from 18 to 21 cents Monday were quoted at 24 cents today.

Meat upon which the price was reduced sold as follows:

Prime ribs 12 to 15 cents, pork loins 12½ to 14 cents, pork tenderloins 20 to 25 cents, dressed beef No. 1 cut 15 to 17 cents, beef ribs No. 1 cut 12 to 14 cents, beef ribs No. 2 cut 10 to 11½ cents, beef rounds No. 1 13½ cents, mutton loins 12½ to 14 cents, mutton legs 12½ to 14 cents.

Prices in different sections of the city varied, but prices were generally lower. Where pork tenderloins had been selling at 22 cents they sold for 20 cents and where they had been selling for 37 cents they sold for 35 cents.

Following the announcement that the price of meat was going down and the protest because there was danger that the county contracts would be sold at high prices, the county board announced the meat situation would be investigated before the contracts were let.

Bids which had been submitted to the board were found in many instances to be higher than those year on the same articles, although wholesale prices were supposed to have been reduced. When this was pointed out the board rejected the bids and postponed the letting of the contracts.

AN EX-SLAVE

PROVIDES SITE FOR TUBERCULOSIS SANITARIUM FOR HIS RACE

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Nov. 23.—Announcement was made yesterday that James K. R. G. DUN PROPERTY

PROVIDENCE, Nov. 23.—The large fortune of R. G. Dun, who established the commercial agency bearing his name, will now go to Rev. Walter D. Buchanan, the New York Presbyterian preacher. The will of Mrs. Dun, the widow, was presented for probate at Narragansett Pier yesterday. She died recently at Hot Springs, W. Va.

Two public bequests were included—$20,000 is left to the orphan asylum, New York city, as a fund for aiding children capable and worthy of receiving an advanced education, and $5000 is given to the blind babies' home, Bay Ridge, Brooklyn, N. Y.

The will includes about 20 small bequests ranging from $100 to $1000 left to servants and friends. It was probated by all parties waiving notice.

Mrs. Dun had long been a summer resident of Narragansett Pier, owning the large estate known as "Duncliffe." Mr. Buchanan is a brother. He is named sole executor.

DANCING PARTY

TO BE HELD IN SACRED HEART SCHOOL HALL

An excellent entertainment and dancing party is to be held at the new Sacred Heart school hall in Moore street tonight. "Thanksgiving Day in the Village School," will be produced under the direction of Miss Elizabeth L. Miskella. At the conclusion of the entertainment dancing will be enjoyed. Dr. J. B. O'Connor is general manager, Mr. J. B. Burns assistant. Mr. Thomas Healey will act as director, and Mr. Thomas Farrell is chairman of the entertainment committee.

During intermission the season ticket prizes will be drawn off, and the winners of the awards will be made known.

LUNAR ECLIPSE

LOCAL PROPHET SEES CALAMITIES IN ITS WAKE

A local prophet or astrologer has many illa to predict as a result of the aspects of the recent eclipse of the moon which, in our opinion, has nothing whatever to do with any of the future events which our correspondent mentions. We advise those who read this letter to take the statements with a large pinch of salt.

Lowell, Mass., November 23.
Editor Sun:

Dear Sir:
Would you kindly allow me a little space in The Sun touching upon the last eclipse of the moon which I do not wish to dwell too much upon, only briefly.

November eclipse is indicative of many terrible earthquakes especially as there are seven planets in fixed signs. The eclipse is central 3 degrees west longitude which falls close to Lisbon where shocks may be felt. Persia, Poland, Calabria and Georgia will feel the effects. Heavy snow storms and much wind will be the outcome; also earthquakes in the southwest of America. Wars and rumors of wars, much crime and scandal, failures, fires and railway accidents during the close of 1910 to Feb. 1911. Mars and Saturn are in evil aspects, thus Ireland will suffer the loss of some high person. Plots upon the lives of persons in authority. The "Car of Russia" will come in for trouble if not family grief. In England much trouble wrought. Members of the house of commons, political excitement and deaths of some prominent person. America will meet with much trouble from an eastern power. I hope not war. Also shocks of earthquakes about Antilles and St. Vincent. Violent storms. Mars and Saturn seem to cause an earthquake about 11 degrees east longitude. Trade will not be good, stocks and shares will hang fire for some time. There appears to be much sickness in the chest, head and lungs, owing to the damp, unsettled weather.

Truly Yours,
Astrologer,

MAYOR GAYNOR

WILL NOT STAND FOR GAMBLING HOUSES

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Mayor Gaynor made plain yesterday afternoon his attitude toward gambling houses in New York. He says they must go.

Writing to a Brooklyn lawyer who complained that for two weeks the police had held possession of a client's saloon, on the charge that it was a gambling house, the mayor says:

"A man's house is his castle, as you correctly say, but I have never, yet heard it said that a man's gambling house is his castle. When the police find a public nuisance they should take possession of it and hold possession of it until the nuisance is fully abated, and that is what they propose to do with gambling places and the like."

"It is of very little use to walk into them and arrest the proprietor and then walk out again. We do not intend to have the law enforced in that feeble way, but, on the contrary, the ample powers given by law to the police to suppress nuisances is going to be exercised."

LUTHERANS MET

Conference at Meadowcroft St. Church

The convention of the Boston district of the New York conference of the Swedish Lutheran church opened last evening in the Swedish Lutheran church in Meadowcroft street. There was a goodly attendance of clergymen and laymen.

The convention opened for business at 7 o'clock this morning and the forenoon was largely given over to reports from various officers and to discussion as to church affairs.

The preachers last night were Rev. O. Moren of Portland, Me., and Rev. A. M. Heranias of Norwood, Mass. The full choir of the church, under the direction of Frank E. Lindquist, organist, gave the musical portion of the service.

This evening at 7:30 o'clock, Rev. Sven Friederich Hammarlof, who is to be formally installed as pastor of the Swedish Lutheran church in 18 years of age, having been born in Dalsund, Sweden, in 1875. He came to America when 14 years of age and, with his parents, settled in Nebraska. For three years he attended Luther academy, completing a course there. He then came east and attended Upsala college, in Kentworth, N. J. Following the completion of his college course he entered Augustana seminary, at Rock Island, Ill., taking a course in theology. He was ordained a Lutheran minister in Trinity church, Chicago, Ill., in 1908, and his first charge was of the Swedish Lutheran church in Brattleboro, Vt., from which city he came to take charge of the church here, about 14 months ago.

VERMONT MAN

DECIDES TO STAND TRIAL ON CHARGE OF MANSLAUGHTER

PROVIDENCE, Nov. 23.—William H. Crowe of Vermont, who came as an attendant at the Rhode Island insane asylum in Cranston in October, yesterday decided to stand trial on the manslaughter charge against him, waiving his right to file special pleas.

The preliminary hearing on the charge that violence used by Crowe resulted in the death of Romeo Charbonneau, a crazy inmate, will be held Nov. 30. Crowe, who is unable to furnish bonds, persists in his plea of not guilty. "I have abandoned the idea of entering a special plea," said Atty. Arnold yesterday, "because I don't want to tie up my client's case any longer than necessary. I think I had a very good point in questioning the validity of Chief Crowe's powers, but if a special plea was entered it would not be possible to get my client before the December grand jury if he is to be bound over."

"I am going to try and have the case come before the December grand jury if he is bound over, in order that he may come to an early trial." The special plea questioned the validity of the office which Chief of Police Chas. Crowe now holds. He arrested Crowe and it was contended that he had no power to issue a warrant.

BOSTON YOUTH

Says That He Was Shanghaied

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—Physically a wreck from nearly three months of cruel treatment, Peter Oskar Jenson, 17 years old, of Boston, who made his way with difficulty to a local hotel yesterday, relates a tale of privation and suffering melodramatic in detail. Shanghaied in an alley near the Y. M. C. A. building on the night of Sept. 15, Jenson, whose father is an artist and draughtsman of Boston, declares he was chloroformed and thrust aboard a fishing smack out of that port. Later he says he was sold for $20 to the skipper of an oyster dredger in Chesapeake bay. Blows and kicks, scanty food and threats of death were meted out to Jenson daily and then he declared that he was thrown overboard in the night at Colonial beach. After a wearisome walk Jenson reached a hotel in this city, where he sank exhausted with a bleeding knife wound in his arm.

When the boy's father arrives here from Boston an investigation has been begun by the Maryland authorities to learn the name of the boat and captains described by Jenson.

The Dane realizes that his showing with Lagrave was far from indicating that he could come back and that his only claim to a return meeting with Wolgast hinges upon the showing he makes against the shifty Englishman.

"If I can't win Moran," said Nelson after a stiff workout yesterday, "I won't have any business monkeying with Wolgast." "I think, however," he continued, "I will be able to hold my own and win by a decisive margin."

BOYS SENT AWAY

For Attempting to Steal Horse and Wagon

MILKMAN FINED IN POLICE COURT

Drunken Husband Sent to Jail—Boys Fined For Violating Street Ordinance—Other Cases

George Lefebvre and Joseph Goulet, aged 19 and 18 years respectively, were arraigned before Judge Hadley in police court this morning on a complaint charging them with the larceny of a horse, carriage, harness, robe and weight, valued at $246. Each entered a plea of guilty and after the testimony had been offered they were found guilty and sentenced to the Massachusetts reformatory at Concord.

According to the testimony offered in court the young men called at the stable of George Lacrosse in Moody street, Monday afternoon, and hired a carriage claiming that they were going to visit an inmate of the industrial school at North Chelmsford who was to be removed to another institution.

The boys instead of going to the school in the up-river town, drove to Nashua where they put the horse up at a stable owned by F. T. Lewis at 24 Railroad square and demanded that the horse be fed immediately.

While in the stable Daniel P. Fay and Arthur Prince, both of Nashua, asked if the outfit was for sale and the Lowell boys seemed to be anxious to get rid of the rig. Goulet wanted $300 for the turnout, but after conversing with Lefebvre decided to allow the property to go for $50.

During the course of the conference between the different parties Fay and Prince grew suspicious and informed the police of Nashua. After the dick for the outfit was made Goulet made out a bill of sale and gave his name as "Joseph Hall." A notice was received a check for $50, but before he was able to secure an endorsement or have it cashed he was placed under arrest.

As a result of the attempt to sell the outfit the Lowell police were notified and when subsequently the owner of the horse and carriage reported the loss Inspector Charles Lufkin was sent to Nashua and he brought the boys back to Lowell yesterday.

When arraigned in police court this morning they entered pleas of guilty and offered no defense. They were sent to the Massachusetts reformatory.

Milkman Convicted

Daniel E. Cameron, a milkman who resides in West Draut, was this morning brought before the court on a complaint charging him with carrying off in a wagon which he used to convey milk.

The complaint was brought in connection with a violation of rule 6 of the law governing the production, care and distribution or sale of milk in the city of Lowell, the aforesaid rule being a portion of chapter 75, section 14 of the Revised Laws which reads as follows:

Rule 6—Bottles shall be filled only at a dairy or milk plant, or in such other manner as may be acceptable to the board of health. In no case shall milk bottles be filled from the delivery wagon or from bulk containers, left in places where milk is sold. All milk sold in bottles shall have a properly fitting stopper which shall have stamped thereon the name and license number of the dealer supplying the milk. Milk tickets shall not be used a second time. No can or utensil used to contain milk shall be transported in any vehicle used for conveyance of baggage or other material, or in any other manner liable to cause milk contamination.

Melvin P. Master, inspector of milk of this city, testified that he stopped the defendant near the corner of the Mammoth road and Eighth avenue about seven o'clock in the morning of November 8 and found that there was a can of milk in the wagon.

Agent Frederick A. Bates of the board of health testified that Mr. Cameron had no license to carry off. Cameron's only defense was that a local huckster offered him the contents of the can and he was carrying it home when stopped by Mr. Master. He said that on another occasion he had done the same thing knowing at the time that he was violating the law.

The court after considering the evidence in the case found the defendant guilty and imposed a fine of $3.

Sent to Jail

Joseph Primenu admitted that he had been drinking and also that he had neglected his wife and children, but he wanted "one more chance," but after Mrs. Primenu had offered her testimony the court decided that it would be better for his family if he were sent to jail. The defendant was away for a while. Joseph will spend the next six months in jail.

BOYS SENT AWAY

For Attempting to Steal Horse and Wagon

MILKMAN FINED IN POLICE COURT

Drunken Husband Sent to Jail—Boys Fined For Violating Street Ordinance—Other Cases

George Lefebvre and Joseph Goulet, aged 19 and 18 years respectively, were arraigned before Judge Hadley in police court this morning on a complaint charging them with the larceny of a horse, carriage, harness, robe and weight, valued at $246. Each entered a plea of guilty and after the testimony had been offered they were found guilty and sentenced to the Massachusetts reformatory at Concord.

According to the testimony offered in court the young men called at the stable of George Lacrosse in Moody street, Monday afternoon, and hired a carriage claiming that they were going to visit an inmate of the industrial school at North Chelmsford who was to be removed to another institution.

The boys instead of going to the school in the up-river town, drove to Nashua where they put the horse up at a stable owned by F. T. Lewis at 24 Railroad square and demanded that the horse be fed immediately.

While in the stable Daniel P. Fay and Arthur Prince, both of Nashua, asked if the outfit was for sale and the Lowell boys seemed to be anxious to get rid of the rig. Goulet wanted $300 for the turnout, but after conversing with Lefebvre decided to allow the property to go for $50.

During the course of the conference between the different parties Fay and Prince grew suspicious and informed the police of Nashua. After the dick for the outfit was made Goulet made out a bill of sale and gave his name as "Joseph Hall." A notice was received a check for $50, but before he was able to secure an endorsement or have it cashed he was placed under arrest.

As a result of the attempt to sell the outfit the Lowell police were notified and when subsequently the owner of the horse and carriage reported the loss Inspector Charles Lufkin was sent to Nashua and he brought the boys back to Lowell yesterday.

When arraigned in police court this morning they entered pleas of guilty and offered no defense. They were sent to the Massachusetts reformatory.

Milkman Convicted

Daniel E. Cameron, a milkman who resides in West Draut, was this morning brought before the court on a complaint charging him with carrying off in a wagon which he used to convey milk.

The complaint was brought in connection with a violation of rule 6 of the law governing the production, care and distribution or sale of milk in the city of Lowell, the aforesaid rule being a portion of chapter 75, section 14 of the Revised Laws which reads as follows:

Rule 6—Bottles shall be filled only at a dairy or milk plant, or in such other manner as may be acceptable to the board of health. In no case shall milk bottles be filled from the delivery wagon or from bulk containers, left in places where milk is sold. All milk sold in bottles shall have a properly fitting stopper which shall have stamped thereon the name and license number of the dealer supplying the milk. Milk tickets shall not be used a second time. No can or utensil used to contain milk shall be transported in any vehicle used for conveyance of baggage or other material, or in any other manner liable to cause milk contamination.

FREIGHT RATES

Testimony of Shippers Resumed

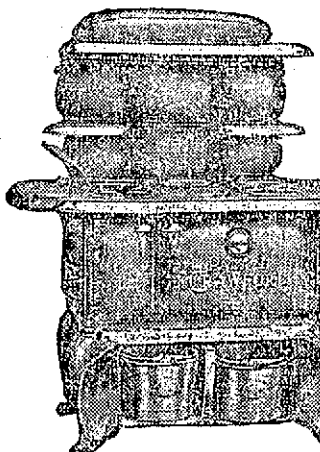

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—The interstate commerce commission today entered on the third day of the presentation of testimony by shippers against the proposed increase of freight rates on the eastern trunk lines. Many more witnesses were arranged for by Louis D. Brandeis of the Atlantic Seaboard Shippers Traffic committee. In view, however, of the statement from the bench of the commission that the case had been made out so far as the practicability of extension to other points was concerned the testimony along this line was expected to be concluded today. There are a number of other witnesses from the east and from the west who are expected to appear Friday and for a day or two next week to take up other phases of the opposition.

Counsel for the railroads have advised the commission that while binding themselves to the changes made in the schedules there was no present indication for the railroads to offer any rebuttal. They rested their case last month.

Notice the Two Hods in the Base of the Crawford Ranges

One is an Ash Hod into which the ashes fall through a chute—all of them—and are easily emptied. The other Hod is for Coal. This feature saves lots of trouble and is patented.

Then there is the wonderful Single Damper (patented); slide the knob to "kindle," "bake" or "check," the range does the rest.

The Oven has cup-joint heat flues that heat it all over alike.

The Patented Grates save coal and trouble.

Ask the Crawford Agent to show you and write us for circular.

WM. P. CONNERY WAS NOMINATED FOR MAYOR OF LYNN

LYNN, Nov. 23.—Mayor James E. Rich and William P. Connery, both democrats, were nominated yesterday in the preliminary election as candidates for mayor and commissioner of public safety. Rice received 3068 votes and Connery 2723. Henry W. Earleton, republican, got 2552 votes. The next nearest candidates out of a field of twelve received less than 1000 votes.

This was the first primary election under the new city charter and also the first time so many candidates sought office here. Those who qualified in addition to the two for mayor and commissioner of public safety were: Commissioner of finance, Frank A. Turnbull, Benjamin Peach; commissioner of highways, George H. McPherson, Charles H. Ramadell; commissioner of water and water works, Thomas Campbell, 2d, James P. Sullivan; commissioner of public property, Herbert C. Bayrd, John J. Joyce.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—The marriage of Miss Florence Croker, eldest daughter of Richard Croker, the ex-

MISS FLORENCE CROKER

Tammany, chief, is expected to be announced by Dec. 1. Miss Croker is with her father in Florida at present. She is said to be engaged to a wealthy Irishman of Dublin.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. Harry E. Martin and Miss Anna M. Delmore were married last evening at 5 o'clock at the parsonage residence of St. Patrick's church. Rev. Joseph Curran was officiating clergyman. The groom was assisted by Mr. John McDermott and Miss Margaret Delmore, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. The bride was becomingly gowned in white silk with pearl trimmings and white headpiece with white plume. The bridegroom wore a blue suit with lace trimmings. Both the bride and bridesmaid carried white chrysanthemums. After the ceremony a reception was held at 249 School street. Besides Lowell friends, guests were present from Lawrence, Lynn and Boston. Mr. and Mrs. Martin were the recipients of many beautiful and useful wedding gifts. They will spend their honeymoon in the Maritime provinces and will visit relatives in Dedrickton, the capital of New Brunswick. The happy young couple were given a very brilliant send off at the Middlesex depot as they took their departure for Boston. Members of the Longfellow club, of which Mr. Martin is a prominent member, followed the wedding carriage to the depot, burning candles and cheering all the way and before the train for Boston arrived the newly-weds were showered with rice and confetti. Mr. and Mrs. Martin will return to Lowell after December 1st.

LAROCHE-GERMAIN

Mr. Amodeo Larocche of Boston and

Miss Annette Germain of this city were married yesterday morning at St. Joseph's church, at a nuptial mass celebrated at 8 o'clock by Rev. Fr. Baron. Dr. W. L. M. Pierre, Fr. Germain attended his daughter, and Mr. Pierre Longval was the bridegroom's witness. After the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served at the bride's home, 68 Cabot street, and at noon, Mr. and Mrs. Larocche left on a wedding tour. They have received many handsome gifts, and will make their home in Boston.

BERUBE-GUILMETTE

Mr. Louis Napoleon Berube and Miss Marie Louise Guilmette were married yesterday morning at St. Joseph's church, at a nuptial mass celebrated at 1 o'clock by Rev. Fr. Racette. Dr. M. L. A. wedding dinner was served at the bride's home, 186 Perkins street, and at night a reception was held at the bridegroom's home, 80 Tilden street.

PLEADWELL-SUTCLIFFE

Mr. George Frederic Pleadwell of Boston, and Miss Bertha Marietta Sutcliffe, of North Billerica, were united in marriage Monday afternoon at the North Billerica church, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Charles H. Williams, the pastor of the church. Only the immediate relatives of the contracting parties were present. Mr. and Mrs. Pleadwell left on the 4:37 p. m. train for a brief honeymoon trip, after which they will reside in Boston.

WARD-LEFEVRE

Mr. William H. Ward and Miss Amy Belle Lefevre were united in marriage last evening at the home of the bride, 915 Lawrence street. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. James Brannock of St. John's Episcopal church in the presence of relatives and friends, at six o'clock.

The bride was gowned in white satin trimmed with real lace and carried white roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Annie Cryer, was gowned in yellow satin with chiffon overdress and carried yellow chrysanthemums. The best man was Mr. James Rodgers, 15 1/2, Bowdoin street. The bride was given away by her brother-in-law, Mr. Charles A. Whitte, superintendent of parks. The wedding music was played.

They left on a short wedding tour and on their return will reside at 915 Lawrence street.

COST OF LIVING INCREASES

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—In sympathy with conditions in the United States the cost of living shows corresponding increases in various European countries, according to consular reports. Consul William J. Pike, stationed at Salzburg, reports that meetings of protest are being held in Austria attended by citizens of all classes. One of the chief grievances of the Austrian people is the high price of meats, appeals being made to the government for a change in policy whereby the importation of American meats would be made possible.

LEGAL NOTICES

MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE

By virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage given by Joseph F. Burns of Lowell, in the County of Middlesex, and Commonwealth of Massachusetts to James J. Kerwin of said Lowell, dated April 1st, A. D. 1905, and recorded in the Registry of Deeds for the Northern District of the County of Middlesex, Book 376, Page 7, and assigned by said Joseph F. Burns to The Central Savings Bank, a corporation established under the laws of said Commonwealth and located at said Lowell, by assignment dated April 1st, 1905, and recorded in said Registry, Book 376, Page 9, will be sold at public auction, for breach of the conditions of said mortgage deed, on the premises hereinafter described, on Saturday, the 27th day of December, A. D. 1910, at two o'clock and thirty minutes in the afternoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed, and thereon described substantially as follows:

certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in said Lowell, on the northerly side of John street, containing three thousand nine hundred and seventy-five square feet, more or less, and bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a right northerly side of Crosby street at a stone bound at the southeasterly corner of the premises at land now formerly of one Tully; thence at a right angle northerly along said last named land seventy-five feet to a stone bound at land now or formerly of one Tully; thence westerly along said last named land at a right angle fifty-three feet to a stone bound at a right angle southerly along said last named land seventy-five feet to said Crosby street; thence at a right angle easterly along said Crosby street fifty-three feet to a stone bound at the point of beginning.

Being the same premises to said Joseph F. Burns conveyed by James H. McDermott by deed dated April 1st, 1905, and recorded in said Registry, Book 376, Page 9.

The above described premises will be sold and conveyed subject to any and all unpaid taxes, municipal or otherwise, assessments and taxes which may be due or to become due thereon. The purchaser will be required to pay $300 in cash at the time of the sale, and the balance in ten days from the day of sale, at 12 o'clock noon, at said Bank.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE

By virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage given by Martin O'Hearn and John A. O'Hearn of Lowell, in the County of Middlesex, and Commonwealth of Massachusetts to The Central Savings Bank, a corporation established under the laws of said Commonwealth and located at said Lowell, dated April 24, 1905, and recorded in the Registry of Deeds for the Northern District of said County, Book 376, Page 10, will be sold at public auction for breach of the conditions of said mortgage deed, on the premises hereinafter described, on Saturday, the 27th day of December, A. D. 1910, at three o'clock and thirty minutes in the afternoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed, and thereon described substantially as follows:

A certain piece of land with the buildings thereon, containing three thousand three hundred and seventy-eight (3378) square feet, more or less, situated on the northerly side of Broadway street, in said Lowell, and bounded and described as follows: Beginning at the southeasterly corner of the premises on said Broadway at the former of the heirs of Wm. Ransom; thence north 27 degrees west at right angles to said Broadway and bounded by said Adams land eighty-eight and 17-100 feet to land of John Adams, new or formerly thence at an angle of 90 degrees to a line parallel to and sixty-one feet distant from said Broadway, thence along said Broadway sixty-one feet to the point of beginning. Being the same premises to said Martin O'Hearn and John A. O'Hearn conveyed by said mortgage deed, dated April 24, 1905, and recorded in said Registry, Book 376, Page 10, and subject to any and all unpaid taxes, municipal or otherwise, assessments and taxes which may be due or to become due thereon. The purchaser will be required to pay $300 in cash at the time and place of sale, and the balance in ten days from the day of sale, at 12 o'clock noon, at said Bank.

THE CENTRAL SAVINGS BANK, By Clarence W. Whidden, President.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS, Middlesex County.

To the heirs-at-law, next of kin, creditors, and all other persons interested in the estate of Catherine Tansley, late of Chalmers, in said County, deceased, intestate.

Whereas a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased to Patrick Tansley, of Chalmers, in said County, Middlesex, without giving a surety bond;

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Cambridge, in said Middlesex County, on the twenty-ninth day of November, A. D. 1910, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause if any you have, why the same should be granted.

The petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof,

Two Men Sue City of Lowell for Alleged Violations

Alden B. Ilsley Wants Compensation for Suspension in City Engineer's Office and Wm. Green for Dismissal From Fire Dept.

Before Judge Harris in jury waived session of the superior court today the case of Alden B. Ilsley vs. City of Lowell was heard. Misses Donovan and Arundel of Lawrence for the plaintiff and City Solicitor Duncan for the city. Mr. Ilsley is at present an employee of the city engineering office and has been a candidate for city engineer. Some time ago he was suspended by City Engineer Bowers and was later restored to his position. He claims that he was wrongfully suspended and sues to recover salary for the period of suspension.

Mr. Ilsley was the only witness for the plaintiff and he stated that he was suspended for political reasons. City Engineer Bowers was the only witness for the defense and he claimed that he was obliged to suspend Mr. Ilsley to cut down expenses in his office. He denied that politics had anything to do with the matter. The counsel then argued and the court took the case under advisement.

Green vs. City of Lowell
The case of William J. Green vs. the City of Lowell, with the same counsel was then opened. In this case the plaintiff who was a substitute call fireman connected with the High Street Fire company, claims that he was illegally discharged from the service in violation of the civil service law. The defense claims that he was discharged for cause and that he did not come under the civil service laws. Lawyers Daniel J. Donahue and Joseph Loughran whom the plaintiff consulted before bringing the suit were called and Mr. Loughran testified that when he went to the chief the latter stated that he had not sent Mr. Green's name to the civil service commission as a call fireman when the call men were about to be put under the civil service law.

William J. Green, the plaintiff, testified that he became a substitute call fireman in 1904. The following year Captain Burns gave him a book of rules and told him he was to be a regular call man. In July 1906 he went to the city treasurer's office to see if there was any pay coming to him and he was told there was none. In April 1907 he received a notice from Captain Burns informing him that he had been dismissed from the department. He was given a hearing and then dismissed. Witness said he had never received any money for his services as a call man.

Witness repeated that on June 28, 1905, Capt. Burns told him that he was to be a regular fireman. When he found there was no money coming to him as call man he spoke to Chief Hosmer and the latter said he would look the matter up.

On cross-examination witness said that he claimed to have appointed a call man July 1, 1905.

He was asked if he answered an alarm from box 52 on July 15, 1905, but he couldn't remember. Mr. Duncan then read a list of dates and fire alarms but witness said he could not remember that far back.

He was asked if he had answered any alarms since July 15, 1905, and he replied that he responded to them all but could recall no individual occasions. Witness said he was given pay as a substitute but not from the city.

Mr. Duncan asked the witness who paid him but he couldn't recall. Chief Hosmer was then sworn and he testified that in 1907 he discharged

Chief Hosmer stated that he did not think he told Mr. Donahue or Mr. Loughran that Green was not under the civil service law.

Chief Hosmer said that he did not intend to evade the law but he wanted to protect the substitutes who couldn't take an examination.

Story of the Caucuses

The caucuses have come and gone and now we know who we are to vote for on election day.

Mayor Meehan, as was expected, was renominated by an overwhelming vote, receiving 4151 votes while his opponents together received 627.

On the republican side George H. Brown defeated Royal K. Dexter by 3786, the latter apparently taking but little personal interest in the contest.

In the contest for purchasing agent, Edward H. Foye received the nomination over Thomas J. Fitzgerald, after an active, but clean cut campaign. Mr. Foye receiving 2371 against 1743 for Mr. Fitzgerald. Thomas M. Welch, the third candidate, received 719 votes.

On the republican end Smith Adams had a walk-over for purchasing agent, getting 3005 votes while his opponents together received but 244. The democrats in the selection of an aldermanic ticket appear to have selected the nine men who would be the strongest at the polls on election day. Messrs. Connors, Daly and Gallagher who have had previous experience in the upper board ran particularly well throughout the city. The democrats nominated both of the French-American candidates on the aldermanic ticket while on the republican the only French-American candidate, Mr. Bergeron, fell 12 votes short of the nomination.

Bands of Men Fight Each Other Like Sicilian Clans

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—That there exist on Manhattan Island bands of men who fight each other with the vindictiveness of Sicilian clans is indicated in the court records in the case of George Gallagher and Martin Brennan, who were sent each to prison for long terms today for the killing of William Lennon, a bartender. All three of the men lived in Hell's Kitchen, a district on the middle West side.

Gallagher made a confession in which it was declared that he and Lennon, who belonged to rival bands, had been bitter enemies for years. Each

MAY NOT LIVE

Woman Is in a Critical Condition

Mrs. Louisa Butterworth, who it is alleged attempted to commit suicide yesterday morning at the home of her son-in-law, 310 Lakeview avenue, by drawing a razor across her throat, will not recover. She was taken to the Lowell hospital where everything possible in the way of medical and surgical skill was brought to bear, but at the time of going to press this afternoon the hospital authorities announced that the woman would die.

STELLA MORRILL

It is Expected She Will Recover

Miss Stella Morrill, the bookkeeper at the Lowell Coach Co., in Middlesex street, who jumped out of a carriage near Tower's corner, Wednesday night of last week, when she thought the horse attached to the vehicle in which she was riding was running away, is showing signs of improvement. She suffered a fracture of the base of the skull and it was thought she would die, but she is now conscious and every hope is entertained for her recovery.

6 O'CLOCK ARTIST HAD $12,000 His Body Was Found Packed in a Trunk

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—At the time of the disappearance of Albert Callier, the artist whose body the police say was found packed in a trunk in the basement of a house last week, he had between $10,000 and $12,000. It was learned today. The police have been informed also that Callier and William Lewis, his friend, in whose trunk the body was found, were attentive to the same woman.

An intimate friend of Callier said that in June, 1909, the artist told him that his brother had just sent a ticket for Paris and between $10,000 and $12,000. Callier, he said, did not return to France but dropped out of sight. Soon after that time Reno Callier, his brother, with whom he had associated in an ivory company in Sierra Leone, on the west coast of Africa, came to New York and searched in vain for his brother.

CITY HALL NOTES

On the first day of the current month the city was $337,211.11 from the debt limit.

This was pay day at city hall and the city treasurer's office was a busy place.

The proudest man at city hall today was Purchasing Agent Mackenzie. The early morning mail brought him a small package containing a piece of stone marked "genuine Plymouth rock."

When the firemen had their convention in Lowell, Mr. Mackenzie met Gad R. Bartlett, electrician for the fire department of Plymouth, and they took quite a "shine" to each other. On leaving Lowell, Mr. Bartlett told Mr. Mackenzie that he would send him a little piece of genuine Plymouth rock, which he said he would clip from a piece of the rock that had been in his family for years. The much cherished souvenir arrived this morning and Mr. Mackenzie wouldn't part with it for more than ten times its weight in gold.

As a result of a conference with Drs. James J. McCarty and G. Forrest Martin, last evening, Mayor John P. Meehan will call special meetings of both branches of the city government for Friday night of the present week. Joint communications will be sent to the upper and lower boards, concerning the urgent necessity of a contagious hospital for the city, as outlined at the conference of the boards of health and charities, Monday evening last, and the sum of $50,000 will be asked.

At the office of the inspector of buildings this forenoon there was granted to Esther Wolfe a permit to build a four family house in Grand street. The house will be 48 by 51 feet, two stories, and the estimated cost is $2800.

Mayor Meehan Grateful
In conversation with a reporter of The Sun today, Mayor Meehan said he was very grateful to the democrats for their manifestation of loyalty at the polls yesterday. "I wish," said the mayor, "that you would thank the democrats through your paper, for the splendid vote they gave me yesterday. I am proud of the magnificent vote rendered me and I look for a clean democratic sweep on election day."

SODA FOUNTAIN CO.
NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—The stockholders of the American Soda Fountain Co., met today in the office of C. K. Kling in Jersey City, N. J., and voted to continue the old management in office. It had been announced that the election of the board of directors would be fought by some of the dissatisfied holders of stock but when the meeting was held those opposed to the men slated for election merely refrained from voting after they had expressed their dissatisfaction with the way the business had been recently conducted.

SUPERIOR COURT STEAMSHIP OCEANIC In Collision With a Small Vessel but Was Not Damaged

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—The Oceanic of the White Star line from Southampton was in collision with a smaller vessel while on her way up the bay from quarantine this morning. The collision occurred off Robin's Reef. It is believed that the Oceanic was not seriously damaged. She stood by to render necessary assistance to the other vessel.

The collision was between the Oceanic and a tow comprising a tug and two barges, the Morning Star and Star of the East. The latter barge was struck and so badly damaged that she became waterlogged.

It is believed that no lives were lost but the Oceanic lowered one of her boats in readiness to give aid to any of the barge crew endangered as a result of the crash.

INSTANTLY KILLED Man Fell From Twelfth Story of a Building

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 23.—Falling from the twelfth story of the Land & Trust Co. skyscraper building at Broad and Chestnut streets, Henry C. Brewer, 40 years old, met death almost instantly today. He was seen hanging from a window sill by a scrubwoman and just as she screamed from fright Brewer let go and fell to a one-story shed in the rear of the high building.

Brewer was a credit adjuster employed by a firm having offices in the building. The police say there is no doubt that Brewer committed suicide and they are investigating to determine what led to his act.

THE FIRE DEPT. Summoned to Blaze in Kinsman Street

An alarm from box 37 at 2.54 o'clock this afternoon summoned a portion of the fire department to a slight blaze in a bed in a house at 49 Kinsman street, which is owned by P. Maguire and occupied by John McInerney and family.

The cause of the fire is not known but it is thought that children playing with matches were responsible. When the firemen arrived on the scene the bedclothing was ablaze, but a stream from an extinguisher put an end to it.

ROBINSON ARRESTED

BOSTON, Nov. 23.—Elmer Robinson, formerly of Saco, Me., was arrested today charged with attempting to deceive the government in relation to his age in a civil service examination.

Robinson claimed that he was 40 years of age but the government declares that he is five years older.

INDICTMENTS REPORTED

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—The federal grand jury today returned an indictment against Frank Watrous, president, the Rev. Claude M. Severance, and the other members of El Progreso Ymca company of Honduras and the International Finance company, charging them with using the mails to defraud investors in the stock of the Ymca company. The defendants appeared in the criminal branch of the United States circuit court and entered tentative pleas of "not guilty." The prisoners renewed their bonds for examination and were released.

LAWSON EXPLAINS POSITION

BOSTON, Nov. 23.—The reason Thomas W. Lawson did not attend the hearing before a master on Monday in connection with the various suits instituted by F. Augustus Heinze against a number of Boston brokers was brought out today in a hearing before Justice Bailey of the supreme court on a petition to arrest Mr. Lawson on a capias. Mr. Lawson's counsel it was stated was informed that Mr. Lawson's testimony could not be taken on the day set and that, consequently, he need not appear. Mr. Lawson had no intention of averring a legal summons, his counsel said. Mr. Lawson will be in court on Friday when the hearing is to be resumed. If he is present at that time the proceedings brought against him will be dismissed.

GEN. REYES ON WAY TO MEXICO TO LEAD REVOLT

General Reyes, once a business mifera proposed his name as vice president of Mexico, was supposed to be an exile in France. It was reported among the Mexicans that he had already taken passage for New York and would reach Eagle Pass within ten days. Reyes was governor of Nuevo Leon, the hotbed of revolution in Mexico. During the last campaign for president of Mexico some of his friends

Continued

Although the weather was unfavorable, a large vote was cast by both parties, but there was little or no excitement through the day. An unusually large crowd gathered at City Hall, last night to hear the returns. The first returns came in shortly before 10 o'clock and by midnight all results were known.

The vote by wards for both parties is given below:

BOWLING GAMES

Some Exciting Contests Last Night

There was something doing on the alleys last night. The bowlers turned out in large numbers and there were many good games played despite the fact that the scores were not high.

In the Manchester Unity league series there were two games played. There was a difference of but seven pins in the total pinfall in the game between Excelsior and Integrity lodges, the former team having the margin, but Integrity lodge won two of the three ends. In the other game Merrimack Alley trounced the life out of Wamee-tucket.

The Knights of Columbus turned the trick on the Belvideres, winning all three strings by a good margin.

In the Manchester Unity league series the Mount team put it all over the Hamilton team.

The Uncle Sam's travels at a fast pace last night and by doing defeated the Lamsons by a good margin.

The scores:

MANCHESTER UNITY LEAGUE
Excelsior—Rothwell 25s; W. Houston, 25s; J. Houston, 26s; F. Munn, 27s;
Samuelson was out.

HEAVY FIGHTING

SCENE OF MEXICAN RIOT

A Decisive Battle is Expected at San Pedro

EL PASO, Texas, Nov. 23.—Heavy fighting began early this morning at Santa Isabel, Chihuahua.

At Torreon a large force of cavalry has been sent in pursuit of the revolutionists, who have withdrawn toward San Pedro, where a decisive battle is expected today.

GUIDE DETAINED

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Nov. 23.—Reports received by local federal officers today tell of the temporary detention of Albino Flores, who acted as a from Cariso Springs to the border were turned back at the border and are now at Eagle Pass.

Pending an investigation Flores and the animals will be detained. Flores also told Mr. Dove that Madero made no effort to conceal his identity on the journey to the border and seemed to be sanguine of the success of the revolution.

REVOLUTIONISTS GATHER

EL PASO, Texas, Nov. 23.—Chihuahua

the paper established by the Mexican liberals who recently were released from the penitentiary at Phoenix, where they served terms for violating the neutrality law by sending inflammatory literature into Mexico, said last night that it was the intention of every liberalist to cross the border and assist the revolutionists. Gutierrez de Lara, Ricardo Flores Magón and Antonio Villarreal, the men who served the sentences could not be found and it is believed they have already departed.

BARGE WAS LOST

Sunk by the White Star Oceanic

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—When the White Star Oceanic, from Southampton, was coming up the bay today under reduced speed, she ran into a barge laden with coal and sent it to the bottom. The skipper of the barge, Captain Herman Coutant and his wife were in the cabin when the crash came and their lives were saved because of the quick rush of water through the gaping wound in the barge's side, which forced the couple up through the companionway and into the bay, where they were picked up. The barge, which was in tow of the tug Huntington was caught in a strong ebb tide and failed to clear the Oceanic's bow.

200,000 KOREANS

SAID TO HAVE AMPUTATED THEIR TOP KNOTS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—"Rats," "puffs," and "switches," and other such prevalent devices to "improve" on nature may become so cheap as to cease to be a distinguishing mark of the up-to-date lady. This is the comment made by United States Consul Carleton Baker, representative at Amoy, China, on the fact that 200,000 Koreans have amputated their top knots since the annexation of Korea by Japan. In consequence of this increased supply of human hair the price has fallen considerably.

The impetus to the false hair business also is remarked upon by Vice-Consul D. P. De Young at Amsterdam, who writes that an order for hair in that city is as promptly and accurately filled as an order for groceries or dry-goods.

FOOTBALL NOTES

On Thanksgiving morning the Palmers will play their last game on the gridiron this season and will have for their opponents a picked team from the class of the city. Some of the players come from the North End, the Hesters and other strong amateur teams.

The Palmers have won every game that they played this season and the game on Thursday will be the crowning event of the season. The game will be played on the South common and a most interesting contest is expected. The game will start at 10 o'clock.

Manager Connors will have the best line-up possible for the occasion and will include only members of the Palmers.

CHILDREN'S ENTERTAINMENT

There will be fun galore for the youthful ones tomorrow afternoon in the hall of the new Sacred Heart parochial school on Moore street. Everything which has originated from the creative genius of man for the pleasure and enjoyment of youngsters will be in the hall, and if the youngsters have no other place already in mind for the enjoyment of the holiday, it will pay the fond parents if they take the children to this entertainment for the fun and enjoyment which there can be obtained. The committee in charge has worked hard to get the entertainers who will differ from those seen at entertainments of this kind. The program will be the best ever offered in this city at a children's entertainment, and should be attended not only by the children of the Sacred Heart parish, but all the children of the city.

THE B. & M. ROAD

Wants to Make New Stock Issue

CONCORD, N. H., Nov. 23.—The board of railroad commissioners gave a hearing today on the petition of the Boston & Maine railroad for permission to issue 100,000 shares of new stock. Robert Jackson of this city appeared as counsel for Clarence E. Carr of Andover, a stockholder, and entered a protest against the proposed issue if its proceeds are to be used in anyway for replacements. The hearing adjourned to await the presentation of evidence by railroad officials.

COST OF BATHS

MAY DEPEND ON OUTCOME OF INVESTIGATION

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—The cost of baths in the future may depend on the outcome of an investigation which was taken up in this city today. The federal government resumed here its action against the so-called bath tub trust, previous hearings in which have been held in the last two weeks in Pittsburgh and Chicago. At those hearings witnesses representing a number of wholesale houses testified that a combine composed of the Standard Mfg. Co., and sixteen other corporations had attempted to force them into a price-fixing agreement and had refused to sell tubs to those who refused to sign contracts.

Attorney General Wickersham is supervising the case and the hearings are being held before Lindsay C. Spencer, special ambassador.

INCREASE IN WAGES

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Employees of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Co., motormen, conductors, guards, station agents, switchmen and car-barn men, were notified today of a five per cent. increase in wages to take effect at once.

It was in the nature of a Thanksgiving day surprise to the men. The company had promised an increase on Jan. 1 but at a special meeting of the board yesterday it was determined to make it go into effect at once.

increase affects from 12,000 to 15,000 men.

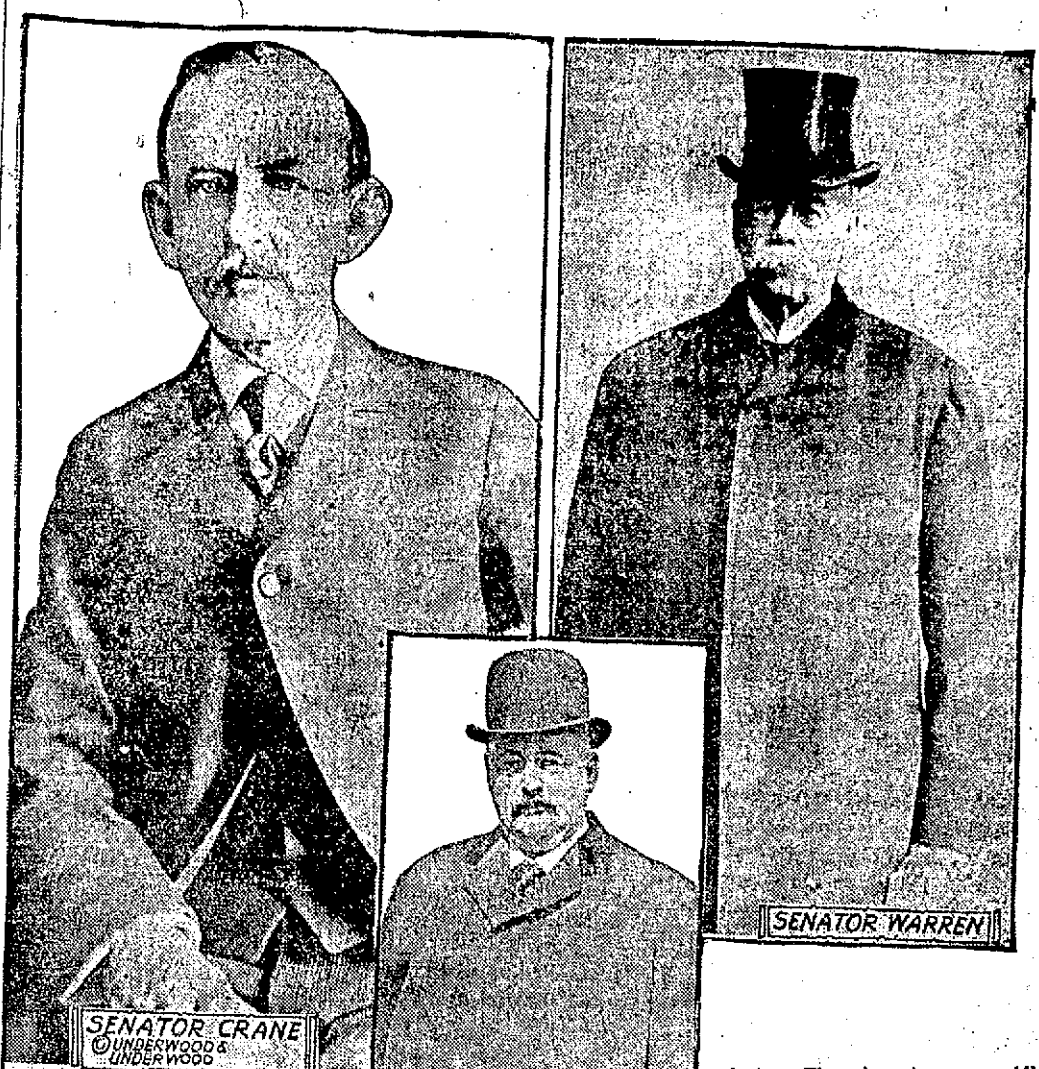

PRES. CLOWRY RESIGNS

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Robert C. Clowry, president of the Western Union Telegraph Co., today tendered his resignation to the board of directors and Theodore V. M. Vail, president of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co., which controls the Western Union, was appointed to fill the vacancy.

MISS LEBNER DID NOT SAIL

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng., Nov. 23.—So far as can be learned, Miss Clara Leber did not sail for New York today, although she had booked a second class passenger on the Majestic under the name of Miss Allen. It is thought that she may have changed her plans after they had been discovered, though it is possible that she will join the vessel at Cherbourg or Quebec.

SEN. CRANE IS PICKED TO ASSUME ALDRICH LEADERSHIP IN SENATE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—Well, the king is not dead, after all. He still lives, and he is hard at work trying to find some one to take his place. The king in this case is Senator Aldrich. The senate is to be without the Rhode Island leader, for his term expires, and he announced that he was out of the political game. But this seems to be a joke now—a very big joke—for Aldrich is at work trying to find a new leader for the senate. He has considered six. Three have become public and one of these three may win the prize of the Aldrich mantle. Senators Crane, Penrose and Warren are the three strongest candidates, with the chances favoring Crane. Warren is so far west and is so filled with wool tariffs that Aldrich fears he will not do. Penrose is a typical boss, and Aldrich fears some of the members would object to following his orders. Crane is a politician and a diplomat. He is a close adviser of the president, and the wise politicians of the capitol look to see Crane assume the leadership—that is, if Aldrich approves.

PRESIDENT TAFT FRANCESCO MADERO

Guest of the People of Richmond

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 23.—President Taft's Richmond hosts had the chief executive bright and early this morning and started on a program which gave no promise of a spare moment up to the hour of his scheduled departure for Washington shortly before 6 o'clock this evening. Mr. Taft spent the night at the Jefferson hotel. At 8:30 o'clock (this morning he breakfasted with Governor Mann at the executive mansion. A salute of 21 guns was fired by the Richmond Howitzers as the president entered the capitol square. At 1:30 o'clock the president was escorted out Franklin street and Monument to the Jefferson Davis monument. In the shadow of the memorial to the president of the Confederacy he reviewed the cadets of the Virginia polytechnic institute and the Richmond Blues.

Following this ceremony the president was taken for an automobile trip over the beautiful districts surrounding Richmond. He was accompanied by Colonel Gordon McBride, who pointed out all the places of particular interest.

Mr. Taft was the guest of 250 citizens of Richmond at luncheon at the Jefferson.

This afternoon the entertainment committee planned to take the president for a peep at the local aviation meet, for a few minutes' stop at a football game and then to the city auditorium, where at 4 o'clock the president is scheduled to make an address before the Virginia education conference.

Dance, A. O. H. hall, tonight.

TREADWAY CRITICIZES FOSS

PITTSFIELD, Nov. 23.—Allan Treadway, president of the state senate, in a statement made public today, severely criticized the action of Governor-elect Eugene Foss in declaring political warfare against the re-election of Senator Henry Cabot Lodge. Mr. Treadway says that he endorses the views expressed last night by Speaker Walker of the Massachusetts house of representatives and that personally he is no more right to delegate to the members of the legislature who should be chosen senator than has a justice of the state supreme court.

Since election Mr. Treadway says he has met all of the senators-elect and knows that only two of the republican members are opposed to the re-election of Senator Lodge.

REQUIEM MASSES THREE ARRESTED

For M. T. I. and Ladies' Charged With Conspiring to Conceal Assets

The memorial mass for the deceased members of the Mathew Temperance institute will be held at St. Peter's church tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock. The members of the institute will assemble at the rooms at 5:30 o'clock and will march to the church.

Ladies' Auxiliary, A. O. H.

A requiem mass for the deceased members of the Ladies' Auxiliary, A. O. H., will be sung at St. Peter's church tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock.

FUNERAL NOTICES

VOESSNER—The funeral of Ernest Voessner will take place Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the home of his son Ernest, 35 Fruit street, and burial will take place in the family lot in the Edison cemetery. Undertakers Higgins Bros. will have charge.

FLANDERS—The funeral of the late Charles S. Flanders will take place on Friday morning at 8 o'clock from his late home, 122 Hale street. Funeral mass of requiem will be sung at the Sacred Heart church at 9 o'clock. Undertakers M. H. McDonough & Sons in charge.

AEROPLANE INTERESTS

BERLIN, Nov. 23.—Orville Wright arrived here today to look after the local aeroplane interests of the Wright brothers.

VOTE FOR GOVERNOR

CONCORD, N. H., Nov. 23.—The complete official return of the vote for governor on Nov. 2 is as follows: Bass, republican, 44,903; Carr, democrat, 47,737; Berry, prohibition, 443; Drew, socialist, 1,023; Scattering, 11.

In the first congressional district the plurality of Sullivan, republican, over Reed, democrat, is 848.

In the second congressional district Currier, republican, had 4,723 more votes than Metcalf, democrat.

overt acts against Americans nor do damage to property of foreigners. Madero's proclamation is being generally circulated today throughout northern Mexico.

BOSTON, Nov. 23.—Three Syrians, one living in this city and two in St. Albans, Vt., were taken into custody today by federal officers on a charge of conspiracy to conceal assets from a trustee in bankruptcy. Those under arrest are Deeb Habeeb of 72 Beach street, where he conducts a men's furnishing store, Crikus Joseph and Niana George. The last two were arrested in St. Albans.

It is claimed by the government officers that Habeeb purchased on credit $20,000 of goods on Oct. 1st and that when the firm of Habeeb & Joseph went into bankruptcy fifteen days later only $1000 worth was found in the store.

Habeeb was held in $5000 by United States Commissioner Hayes and Joseph and George will be brought here tomorrow.

DEATHS

HEBERT—Charles William Hebert died last night at his home, 874 Lakeview avenue, aged 67 years. He leaves a wife, a daughter, Helene, a brother Joseph, all of Lowell, and a sister, Miss Helene Hebert of Manchester, N. H.

WOESSNER—Ernest F. Voessner, aged 75 years, died yesterday at his home, 41 Fruit street. He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Gustave Fingerlen of Providence, R. I., four sons, Ernest, Gottlieb, Herman and Emil, and two brothers and a sister in Germany. The body was taken to the home of his son, Edward, 33 Fruit street, by Undertakers Higgins Brothers.

guide to Francisco I. Madero at Eagle Pass. Flores joined the Madero party at Cariso Springs and rode with it until the Rio Grande was crossed at a point about fifteen miles below Guernero, where a battle is reported to have occurred Sunday.

Flores related to H. V. Dove, collector of customs at Eagle Pass, that Madero crossed the river Sunday morning and was met on the other side by a large band of his followers. They brought with them horses and equipment for Madero and his four lieutenants.

huan is reported in great danger, it being estimated that between 3000 and 10,000 revolutionists are gathered between the city and the plant of the American Smelting & Refining company. All responsible citizens are armed and expected to be attacked at any moment. Crowds of defenders occupy the tops of all the banks, churches and large buildings throughout the city.

MANY SOLDIERS KILLED

EL PASO, Texas, Nov. 23.—The report that many soldiers had been killed by the dynamiting of a bridge and wrecking of a train on the Madero branch of the Mexican & Western road was confirmed here this morning. Reports state that a captain was among the killed. Early reports that 300 had been killed are undoubtedly exaggerated.

ample of a perfectly drilled, controlled, and conducted organization. The championship of the Merrimack valley will be decided tomorrow when Haverhill meets Lawrence. Lowell last Saturday won from Haverhill, and the best authorities claim that Haverhill can easily beat Lawrence. This will place Lowell at the head of the list in this locality.

TOMORROW'S FOOTBALL

The Lowell High School football team tomorrow plays its last game of the season. The team has been the most successful season in its history of the school. After a most dismal mid-season the team, under the coaching and by reason of the spirit infused by their coach, "Tom" Mahony, took a decided and wonderful turn and today stands forth a shining example.

REPORTS TO LLOYDS

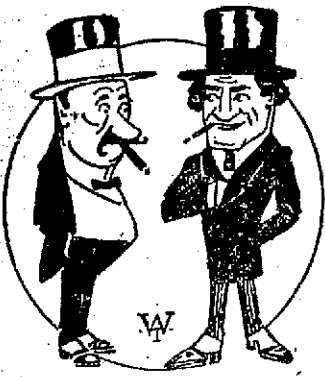

SHOWS SEVERAL MISHAPS TO AMERICAN SHIP

LONDON, Nov. 23.—Today's reports to Lloyds show several mishaps to craft from American ports. The British ship Crompton, from Tacoma, June 23, for Queenstown, went ashore in the fog of Port Magee, Ireland, and it is expected will be a total wreck. All on board escaped.

The American bark James Johnson from Sydney for Newcastle, New South Wales, was stranded and lost her boom in collision with the Norwegian ship Hlawarra, from Buenos Ayres for Newcastle.

The latter vessel's bow was damaged. The British steamer Vauxhall, from

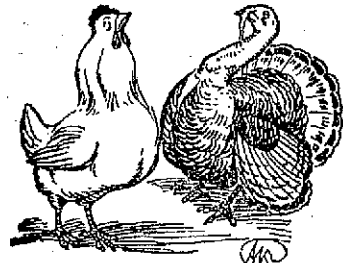

Have Some Fun With Your Bird

FEAST ON THE BOARDS.
First Actor—Say, we hired the claque to work three extra encores on the third act.
Manager—What was the game?
“Why, we had turkey dinner in that act, and the extra calls gave us a chance to eat more.”

A MARTYR TO THE CAUSE.

ANCIENT AND MODERN.
New England Lion—I am descended from Plymouth Rock, a long time back.
The Turk—I descended from the roost only, last night.

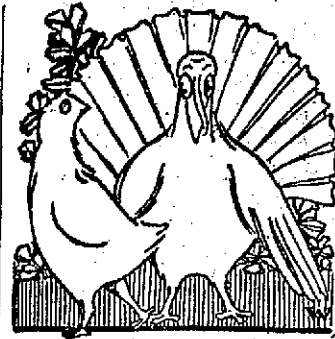

PARTICULAR.
Young Wife—John, dear, are you fond of oysters on the shell?
“Yes, dearie, but don't stuff the turkey with the hulls, you know.”

THE DAY IN DIXIE.
Uncle Ephraim (at the table)—I'll sho' do mah paht on dis Thanksgiving day; but, bress mah ole hawt, when I's cyarvin' dat bird it'll mak' mah mouf watah wishin' it wus possum.

A DAY AFTER.
For ricky meat I passed my plate
Just twice;
My love for dressing I did save
But thrice.
The pudding I can only state
Was nice.
Alas, today
I have to pay—
Dry toast is all I crave—and wait—
One slice.

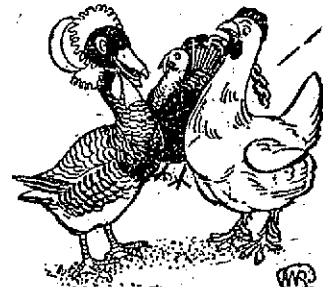

THE SHADOW BEFORE.
The gobbler spread himself and squeaked that he felt cold.
“They'll make it hot for you Thanksgiving,” cackled the hen.

REALLY MEANT.
Cook—My, but you're the plump, fat one!
Turkey—Go 'way! You're stuffing me!

LIMITED THANKFULNESS.
Your gratitude men will remember
With feelings of doubt and of fear
If you're thankful one day in November
And kicking the rest of the year.

“ARE YOU LOOKING FOR ME, LITTLE BOY?”

PRIDE GOETH BEFORE A FALL.
Mrs. Chick—That turkey bird is awfully swelled up.
Mrs. Goosey—Yes; he's got it so bad he is about to lose his head.

SOCIAL SLASHES.
Miss Gabber—Miss Highbrow says you're crazy.
Miss Cutchaw—No wonder. When I met her on the avenue my head was turned.

A GLOOMY OUTLOOK FOR PA.

“Who do you take after, Bertie—your pa or your ma?”
“Neither of 'em. Ma an' me takes together. Pa gits wot's left—if there is any left.”

TALK OF THE TOWN.

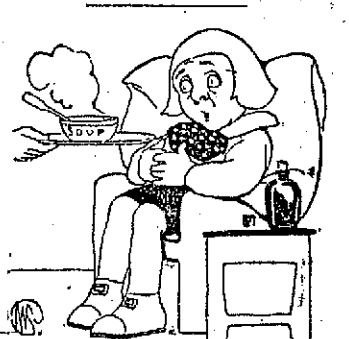

ALL 'STUFFED UP.
With all John Rockefeller's wealth
I'll bet that he
Ate less than half the turkey meat
I tucked in me.

JOHNNY'S THANKSGIVING.
A turkey dinner Johnny ate.
A partial list we print
Of wings and joints, dark meat and white,
And fixings without stint;
Three kinds of pie, ice cream and cake,
With candy all combined,
He stowed away to testify
His thankful frame of mind.
A mother turkey took him
And cleared him off the plate.
A chick his dumplings ate.
His Gobbler carried his juicy breast.
To Turkish turkey cheer.
He felt himself all stuffed and
Just as the print does here.
“You mean the girl he thought he fitted with? She married him.”
—McLanburgh Wilson.

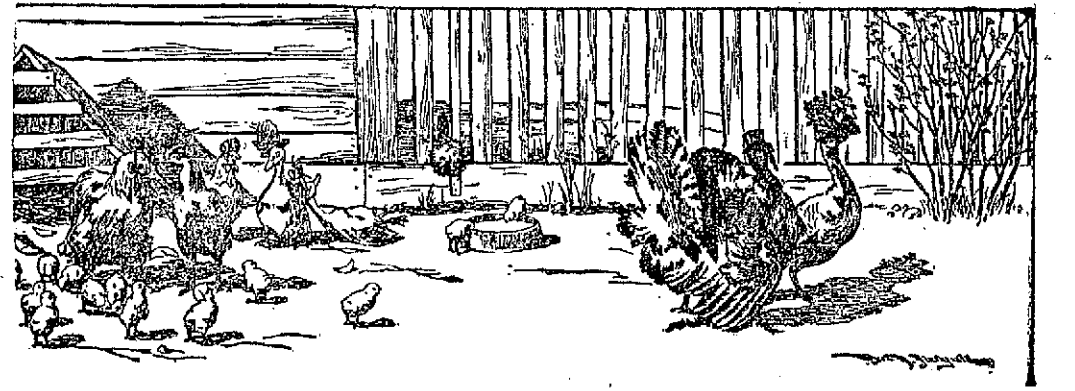

HOW SHE WON HIM.
“What became of the Willby girl that Gawkins flirted with at the summer hotel?”
“You mean the girl he thought he fitted with? She married him.”

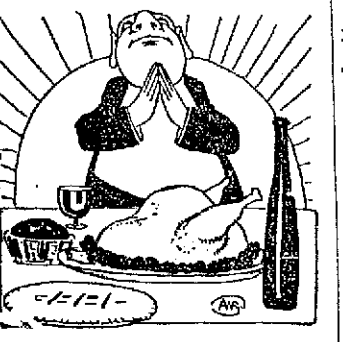

THE DAY AFTER.
Nothing to hear but grunts;
Nothing to pick but bones;
Nothing to eat but soup.

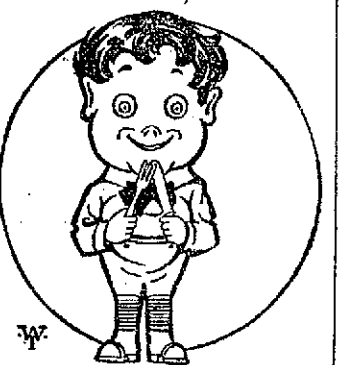

BARNYARD GOSSIP.

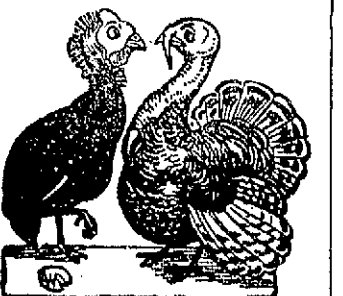

“If my memory serves me they will not put on quite so many airs about Thanksgiving time.”

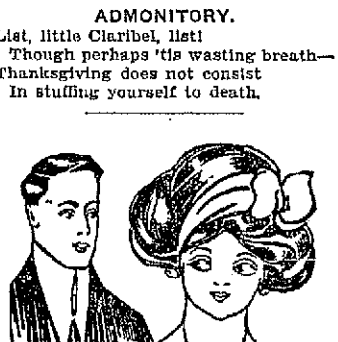

THANKS, AWFULLY.
Thankful for prosperity;
Thankful for a bed all night;
Thankful for the turkey meat;
Thankful for the appetite.

JOY FOR THE BOY.
Thanksgiving is a dandy time,
I rush and get a seat
At table when the turkey's on
And eat and eat and eat.

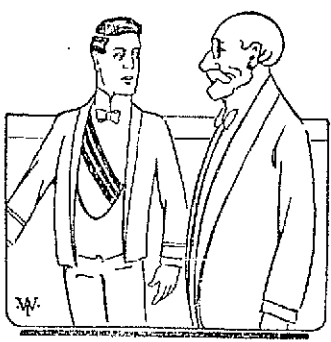

AVIATION OF THE GOBBLER.
The Guinea—The ostrich needn't plume itself. It is not up to date.
National Food Bird—That's right. It ought to come around to the fowl yard the day before Thanksgiving and see the feathers fly.

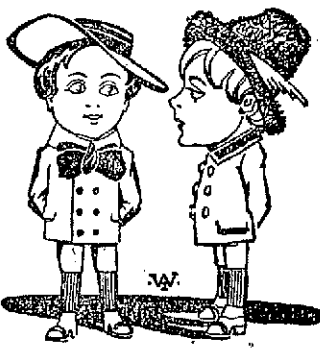

ADMONITORY.
List, little Claribel, list!
Though perhaps 'tis wasting breath—
Thanksgiving does not consist
In stuffing yourself to death.

FIRST SUNDAY AFTER.
“Why does Thanksgiving come on Thursday?”
“To give the family a chance to dispose of the cold turkey so they can have something new for Sunday dinner.”

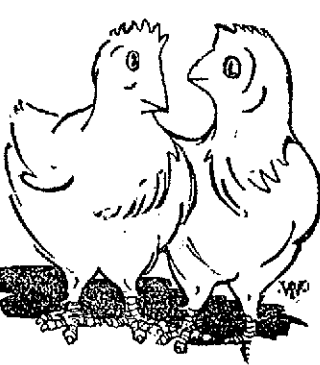

POINTING HER OUT.
First Nighter—Usher, can you tell me where my wife is sent?
“Second row on the first aisle, seven hats to the right.”

THE PARSON'S HUNGRY DAY.
It was a turkey dinner, an' the parson asked a blessing.
Said he, “I like the turkey—all, an' don't despise the drossin’.”
The way that turkey vanished was a caution to behold,
And many good old stories at the feast the parson told.

GETTING A BRACER.
Johnny—Paw lingered a long time on the blessing today, didn't he?
Dick—He knowed he had the turkey to carve, and he ain't very good at it.

AN OLD SPORT.
Miss Leghorn—Tom Turk has got to be a rowdy.
Miss Plymouth Rock—That's only a stall. He thinks that if everybody calls him tough he'll be passed up at Thanksgiving.

THE DAY WE FEED.
Thanksgiving day, Thanksgiving day,
We'll celebrate the same old way—
We'll eat and eat and all get gay,
But shall we ever think to pray?

THE CONTINUOUS BIRD.
Thanksgiving turkey, you
Play many parts, 'tis true—
First come you into view
Whole.
Friday from off your chest
They trim the tender breast—
Nobly you stand the test
Sliced.

Saturday back again,
Bonny, and oh, so plain,
But you are not in vain
Stewed.
Turkey, ah, fading bird!
Down in the kettle stirred,
Known only by the word
Soup!

SACRIFICIAL.
“Limpy, I don't see ez youse emny good to sassify.”
“Say, Fuzzy, I tink ov do mince pie an' cold turkey dat I'll store away in de next few days. Dat means less intjestin' for udder folks. Sea?”

CLEVER.
“He's a clever man.”
“So?”
“Yes; he can carve a turkey without standing up to do it.”

THE BARN DANCE.
Rooster (to Biddy)—Can I have the next dance with you?

WILSON IS FREE

Through the Aid of His Wife

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 23.—Released from the Eastern penitentiary yesterday morning after a sentence of 3½ years for forgery, rearrested as he started to walk away with his wife, held for requisition papers from Cedar Rapids, Ia., and finally discharged by the local authorities late yesterday afternoon, after his wife had telegraphed $100 to the Iowa city and the charge against him there of passing a fraudulent check on a hotel and as he quashed. Is the record of Henry M. Wilson, alias Mortimer, of New London, N. H.

Arm in arm with the woman, who since his arrest in this city while on their honeymoon has remained constant and has cheered him up by frequent letters, Wilson walked out of the city hall yesterday afternoon, a free man. He was arraigned before Magistrate Scott yesterday morning after being arrested at the gates of freedom on the Cedar Rapids warrant and held to await requisition papers. His wife was present at the hearing and, as her husband was led back to a cell, was heard to declare that she would remain loyal to him.

It was not known generally, but early yesterday morning before the formal release of her husband, she had telegraphed $200 to Cedar Rapids to cover the charge against him there. The money was received there yesterday morning, but it was afternoon before the machinery of the law could be got working and a message ordering Wilson's release sent to Capt. Souder here.

Shortly after 3 o'clock, when the hearings were over in central station, Souder walked into the room arm in arm with Wilson. Mrs. Wilson was sitting in a corner, silently weeping. When told that her husband was a free man she exclaimed "Thank God," and fainted in his arms.

In 1908, just before he left for Cedar Rapids with his bride, who was the divorced wife of New Frederick Webb, a clergyman of New London, Wilson paid for a suite of rooms at the St. James hotel in this city with a forged check for $300, signed with the name of Curtis Guild, who was governor of Massachusetts. Wilson had been employed as a stenographer by the Ocean steamship company of Boston, where he is said to have known Gov. Guild personally.

Wilson came here directly after his marriage in Boston and went to Cedar Rapids, where he spent two weeks before going to San Francisco. There he was arrested. He was brought back to this city for the check incident and was sentenced to four years in prison by Justice Wilson, who afterward commuted the sentence to 3½ years.

Wilson is said to have been an excellent prisoner. For the past two years he served as a messenger.

While in prison, his wife's letters have been his main comfort. She declared at the time of his sentence that she would remain true to him and wait resignedly for his return from prison. She kept her word and came to the prison from San Francisco to take him back with her yesterday.

Mrs. Wilson is said to possess a fortune in her own right.

PEARSON STRONG

In Contest for Adjutant General

Practical Politics in this week's issue has the following:

Gov.-elect Foss exemplified his idea of "persistent, pitiless publicity," this week in connection with the names of the candidates for the position of adjutant general. The story printed in the daily newspapers which discussed the various candidates, mentioning Capt. Walter E. Lombard, Capt. Gardner Pearson of Lowell, Perlie A. Dyer of Boston and the present adjutant general, William H. Brigham, was printed practically as it came from Mr. Foss's secretary. It was Mr. Foss' way of letting the public know who were under consideration, that he might hear what the public at large thought of the candidates. He had the right away. A ton of bricks were heaved at Adj. Gen. Brigham and most of the bricks were thrown by militia and former militia officers. A few were also heaved to Perlie Dyer. Capt. Lombard and Pearson came in mostly for hoosers. At the present writing it looks very much like Capt. Gardner Pearson for adjutant general.

Gov.-elect Foss has said that he will make no appointments without first acquainting the public with the names of those whom he has under consideration. It is an excellent idea.

DANCING PARTY

Held By the Rexwood Campers Last Night

The Rexwood campers held their annual dancing party last evening in U. A. M. hall and a merry crowd thronged the hall.

The campers held forth at Forge pond during the summer months and they have one of the best camps on the pond, which is equipped with all the necessities of camping life.

The hall was prettily decorated with different colored streamers extending from each corner to the centre of the room. A neat little souvenir dance order was presented to each one present.

At eight o'clock a concert program was given by the Colonial orchestra and at 8:30 dancing was in order until midnight. Refreshments were served at intermission. The Colonial orchestra furnished music for dancing.

Those responsible for the success of the affair were the following: General manager, Arthur H. Holstein; assistant general manager, Catherine G. Paul; floor director, Stephen J. Roy cut, declaring they had not yet been given any reduction in the wholesale prices, but prominent retailers predicted the reduction would be general in a few days.

Wholesale meat prices came down, turkey prices went up. Turkeys quoted at from 18 to 21 cents Monday were quoted at 24 cents today.

Meat upon which the price was reduced sold as follows:

Pork spare ribs 12 to 15 cents, pork loin 12½ to 14 cents, pork tenderloins 20 to 22 cents, beef No. 1 cut 15 to 17 cents, beef No. 2 cut 12 to 14 cents, beef rounds No. 1 13½ to 15 cents, beef rounds No. 2 11 to 13 cents, mutton loins 12½ to 14 cents, mutton legs 10 cents.

Prices in different sections of this city varied, but the prices were generally lower. Where pork tenderloins had been selling at 22 cents they sold for 20 cents and where they had been selling for 37 cents they sold for 35 cents.

Following the announcement that the price of meat was going down and the price of turkeys was going up, it was dangerous that the county contracts would be let at high prices, the county board announced the meat situation would be investigated before the contracts were let.

Bids which had been submitted to the board were found in many instances to be higher than last year on the same articles, although the wholesale prices were supposed to have been reduced. When this was pointed out the board rejected the bids and postponed the letting of the contracts.

A BOSTON GIRL

Asks That Search Be Made for Father

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 23.—Among the letters received yesterday at the office of John B. Taylor, superintendent of police, was a pathetic appeal from a Boston girl asking that a search be made for her father.

The writer of the letter says she had communicated with the police "on this day," because her father and mother were divorced and her mother told her that she should never want to see her father again. But the girl, Ida Shar, 17 years of age, apparently wants to see her father again, for she asks in the letter that the police tell him that she will forgive him for everything that he will only come and see her. Her letter in part follows:

"I have not seen my father since I was 13 years of age. I do not know what it is to have a father. My mother secured a divorce from my papa and she never wants us to see him again. I understand that he has a second wife now and is living in your city. If you and him tell him that his daughter is yearning to see him, I will forgive him all if I could only see him. My mother does not know about this letter. When you find him try and learn from him his thoughts regarding his first wife and children he left to the mercy of the cruel world when he went away. I work now and help keep my mother. My father has relatives who live in 3d street, near Bainbridge.

"Miss Ida Shar." The police are searching for Shar, but have little hope of finding him unless the girl will send more details of his description.

PRICE OF MEAT

TAKES QUITE A DROP IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—The consumer yesterday for the first time felt the benefit of the recent much heralded reduction in the price of meat. Retailers marked down their prices on beef, mutton and pork from half a cent to two cents a pound, following the announcement of the packers that a similar cut had been made in wholesale prices.

Some markets declined to meet the bid, declaring they had not yet been given any reduction in the wholesale prices, but prominent retailers predicted the reduction would be general in a few days.

Wholesale meat prices came down, turkey prices went up. Turkeys quoted at from 18 to 21 cents Monday were quoted at 24 cents today.

R. G. DUN PROPERTY

PROVIDENCE, Nov. 23.—The large fortune of R. G. Dun, who established the commercial agency bearing his name, will now go to Rev. Walter D. Buchanan, the New York Presbyterian preacher. The will of Mrs. Dun, the widow, was presented for probate at Narragansett Pier yesterday. She died recently at Hot Springs, W. Va.

Two public bequests were included—$20,000 is left to the orphan asylum, New York city, as a fund for aiding children capable and worthy of receiving an advanced education, and $5000 is given the blind babies' home, Bay Ridge, Brooklyn, N. Y.

The will includes about 50 small bequests ranging from $100 to $1000 left to servants and friends. It was probated by all parties waiving notice.

Mrs. Dun had long been a summer resident of Narragansett Pier, owning the large estate known as "Dunmore."

Mr. Buchanan is a brother. He is named sole executor.

DANCING PARTY

TO BE HELD IN SACRED HEART SCHOOL HALL

An excellent entertainment and dancing party is to be held at the new Sacred Heart school hall in Moore street tonight. "Thanksgiving Day in the Village School" will be produced under the direction of Miss Elizabeth L. Miskalla. At the conclusion of the entertainment dancing will be enjoyed. Dr. J. B. O'Connor is general manager, and Mr. James Burns assistant. Mr. Thomas Henley will act as floor director, and Mr. Thomas Farrell is chairman of the entertainment committee. During intermission the season ticket prizes will be drawn off, and the winners of the awards will be made known.

On Thanksgiving afternoon at two o'clock, the same entertainment will be given for the benefit of the children. On Thanksgiving morning at eight o'clock a religious mass will be sung for all the deceased members of the society. All the society members are invited to be present.

LUNAR ECLIPSE

LOCAL PROPHET SEES CALAMITIES IN ITS WAKE

A local prophet or astrologer has many bills to predict as a result of the aspects of the recent eclipse of the moon which, in our opinion, has nothing whatever to do with any of the future events which our correspondent mentions. We advise those who read this letter to take the statements with a large pinch of salt.

Lowell, Mass., November 22.

Dear Sir:

Would you kindly allow me a little space in The Sun touching upon the last eclipse of the moon which I do not wish to dwell too much upon, only briefly.

November eclipse is indicative of many terrible earthquakes especially in the southwest of America. Wars and rumors of wars, much crime and scandal, failures, fires and railway accidents during the close of 1910 to Feb. 1911. Mars and Saturn in evil aspects, thus Ireland will suffer the loss of some high person. Plots upon the lives of persons in authority. The Star of Russia will come in for trouble if not family grief in England much trouble wrought. Members of the house of commons, political excitement and deaths of some prominent person. America will meet with much trouble from an eastern power, hope not war. Also shocks of earthquakes about Antilles and St. Vincent. Violent storms. Mars and Saturn seem to cause an earthquake about 11 degrees east longitude. Trade will not be good, stocks and shares will hang fire for some time. There appears to be much sickness in the chest, head and lungs, owing to the damp, unsettled weather.

Truly Yours,

Astrologer.

ST. PATRICK'S HOLY NAME

The meeting of the Holy Name society of St. Patrick's church was held last night in the school hall in Suffolk street. There was a very large attendance and considerable business of importance was transacted during the evening. Rev. Fr. Curtin was in attendance and invited the members of the organization to be present Thanksgiving morning in the basement of the church at 7.45, then form into line and march to the upper church.

A committee of 12 will make arrangements for a smoke talk in January, 1911. Two committees, consisting of three members each will choose candidates for office at the next election in December.

MAYOR GAYNOR

WILL NOT STAND FOR GAMBLING HOUSES

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Mayor Gaynor made plain yesterday afternoon his attitude toward gambling houses in New York. He says they must go.

Writing to a Brooklyn lawyer who complained that for two weeks the police had held possession of a client's saloon, on the charge that it was a gambling house, the mayor says:

"A man's house is his castle, as you correctly say, but I have never yet heard it said that a man's gambling house is his castle. When the police and a public nuisance they should take possession of it and hold possession of it until the nuisance is fully abated, and that is what they propose to do with gambling places and the like."

"It is of very little use to walk into them and arrest the proprietor and then walk out again. We do not intend to have the law enforced in that feeble way, but, on the contrary, the ample powers given by law to the police to suppress nuisances is going to be exercised."

LUTHERANS MET

Conference at Meadowcroft St. Church

The convention of the Boston District of the New York conference of the Swedish Lutheran church opened last evening in the Swedish Lutheran church in Meadowcroft street. There was a goodly attendance of clergy and laymen.

The convention opened for business at 9 o'clock this morning and the forenoon was largely given over to reports from various officers and to discussion as to church affairs.

The preachers last night were Rev. O. Moran of Portland, Me., and Rev. A. M. L. Heranius of Norwood, Mass. The full choir of the church, under the direction of Frank H. Lindquist, organist, gave the musical portion of the service.

This evening at 7:30 o'clock, Rev. Sven Friedrich Hammarlof will be formally installed as pastor of the church. The installation sermon will be preached by Rev. F. Jacobson, of Brooklyn, N. Y. Rev. J. K. Peterson, of Waltham, will also preach. His subject will be "The Word of God Man According to the Word of God."

Present at the conference are: Rev. A. M. L. Heranius, of Norwood; Rev. E. J. Hulten, of Brooklyn; Rev. A. C. H. Hulten, of North Easton; Rev. S. N. Ely, of Quincy; Rev. H. HOW TO GET RID OF PIMPLES

It is truly remarkable how Cadum, the new remedy, causes pimples to disappear. Bad cases are frequently helped in a week, and sometimes even sooner. Cadum causes pimples to dry up and fall off, leaving the skin as soft and smooth as a baby's. Pimples are a disease of the skin and are not caused by bad blood, as many people suppose. Cadum helps these annoying and disfiguring skin blemishes, because it can be applied direct to the trouble, and its soothing, antiseptic and healing powers stop the itching at once. Cadum is equally good for rash, blotches, scaly skin, chafings, eczema, sores, eruptions, acne, psoriasis, etc. 10c and 25c per box at all druggists.

VERMONT MAN

DECIDES TO STAND TRIAL ON CHARGE OF MANSLAUGHTER

PROVIDENCE, Nov. 23.—William H. Crowe of Vermont, who came as an attendant at the Rhode Island insane asylum in Cranston in October, yesterday decided to stand trial on the manslaughter charge against him, waiving his right to a special plea.

The preliminary hearing on the charge that violence used by Crowe resulted in the death of Romeo Charbonneau, a crazy inmate, will be held Nov. 30. Crowe, who is still confined in the jail at Cranston unable to furnish bonds, persists in his plea of not guilty.

"I have abandoned the idea of entering a special plea," said Atty. Arnold yesterday, "because I don't want to tie up my client's case any longer than necessary. I think I had a very good point in questioning the validity of Chief Cuffs' powers, but if a special plea was entered it would not be possible to get my client before the December grand jury if he is to be bound over."

"I am going to try and have the case come before the December grand jury. If he is bound over, in order that he may come to an early trial." The special plea questioned the validity of the office which Chief of Police Cuff of Cranston now holds. He arrested Crowe and it was contended that he had no power to issue a warrant.

BOSTON YOUTH

Says That He Was Shanghaied

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—Physically a wreck from nearly three months of cruel treatment, Peter Oscar Japson, 17 years old, of Boston, who made his way with difficulty to a local hotel yesterday, related tales of privation and suffering melodramatically in detail.

Shanghaied in an alley near the Y. M. C. A. building on the night of Sept. 15, Japson, whose father is an artist and draughtsman of Boston, declares he was chloroformed and thrust aboard a fishing trawler in Chesapeake bay. Blows and kicks, scanty food and threats of death were heaped out to Japson daily and then he declared that he was thrown overboard in the night.

Colonial beach. After a wearisome walk Japson reached a hotel in this city, where he sank into a stupor with a bleeding knife wound in his arm.

When the boy's father arrives here from Boston an investigation will be begun by the Maryland authorities to learn the name of the boat and captains described by Japson.

MILKMAN FINED IN POLICE COURT

Drunken Husband Sent to Jail—Boys Fined for Violating Street Ordinance—Other Cases

George Lefebvre and Joseph Goulet, aged 18 and 18 years respectively, were arraigned before Judge Hadley in police court this morning on a complaint charging them with the larceny of a horse, carriage, harness, robe and weight, valued at $248. Each ordered a plea of guilty and after the testimony had been offered they were found guilty and sentenced to the Massachusetts reformatory at Concord.

According to the testimony offered in court the young men called at the stable of George Lefebvre in Moody street, Monday afternoon, and hired a carriage claiming that they were to go to visit an inmate of the industrial school at North Chelmsford who was to be removed to another institution.

The boys instead of going to the school in the up-river town, drove to Nashua where they put the horse up at a stable owned by "T. Lewis at 21 Railroad square, and demanded that the horse be fed immediately.

While in the stable Daniel P. Fay and Arthur Prince, both of Nashua, asked if the outfit was for sale and the Lowell boys seemed to be anxious to get rid of the rig. Goulet wanted $300 for the turnout, but after conversing with Lefebvre decided to allow the property to go for $50.

During the course of the conference between the different parties Fay and Prince grew suspicious and informed the police of Nashua. After the dicker for the outfit was made Goulet made out a bill of sale and gave his name as "Joseph Hall." In return he received a check for $50, but before he was able to secure an endorsement or have it cashed he was placed under arrest.

As a result of the attempt to sell the outfit the Lowell police were notified and when subsequently the owner of the horse and harness reported the loss Inspector Charles Lefebvre was sent to Nashua and he brought the boys back to Lowell yesterday.

When arraigned in police court this morning they entered pleas of guilty and offered no defense. They were sent to the Massachusetts reformatory.

Milkman Convicted

Daniel E. Cameron, a milkman who resides in West Draught, was this morning brought before the court on a complaint charging him with carrying off in a wagon which he used to convey milk.

The complaint was brought in connection with a violation of rule 6 of the law governing the production, care and distribution or sale of milk in the city of Lowell, the aforesaid rule being a portion of chapter 75, section 14 of the Revised Laws which reads as follows:

Rule 6.—Bottles shall be filled only at a dairy or milk plant, or in such other manner as may be acceptable to the board of health. In no case shall milk bottles be filled from the delivery wagon or from bulk containers, left in place where milk is sold. All milk sold in bottles shall have a properly fitting stopper which shall have stamped thereon the name and license number of the dealer supplying the milk. Milk tickets shall not be used a second time. No can or utensil used to contain milk shall be transported in any vehicle used for conveyance of garbage or other material, or in any other manner liable to cause milk contamination.

Melvin F. Master, inspector of milk of this city, testified that he stopped the defendant near the corner of the Mammoth road and Eighth avenue about seven o'clock in the morning of November 8 and found that there was a can of milk in the wagon.

Agent Frederick A. Bates of the board of health testified that Mr. Cameron had no license to carry offal.

Cameron's only defense was that a local baker offered him the contents of the can and he was carrying it home when stopped by Mr. Master. He said that on another occasion he had done the same thing knowing at the time that he was violating the law.

The court after considering the evidence in the case found the defendant guilty and imposed a fine of $3.

Sent to Jail

Joseph Prineau admitted that he had been drinking and also that he had neglected his wife and children, but he wanted "one more chance," but after Mrs. Prineau had offered her testimony the court decided that it would be better for his family and the public at large to send the defendant away for a while. Joseph will spend the next six months in jail.

FREIGHT RATES

Testimony of Shippers Resumed

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—The interstate commerce commission today entered on the third day of the presentation of testimony by shippers against the proposed increase of freight rates on the eastern trunk lines. Many more witnesses were arranged for by Louis D. Brandeis of the Atlantic Seaboard Shippers Traffic committee. In view, however, of the statement from the bench of the commission that the case had been made out so far as the practicability of scientific management in the plants already described and the possibility of extension to other points was concerned the testimony along this line was expected to be concluded today. There are a number of other witnesses from the east and from the west who are expected to appear Friday and for a day or two next week to take up other phases of the opposition.

Counsel for the railroads have advised the commission that while binding themselves to the changes made in the schedules there was no present indication for the railroads to offer rebuttal. They rested their case last month.

Sent to the State Farm

Harry Adams admitted that he was a vagrant, he has no home and said he wanted to go to the state farm. The court granted the request of the unfortunate and Harry will have his dinner at the farm tomorrow noon.

Notice the Two Hods in the Base of the Crawford Ranges

One is an Ash Hod into which the ashes fall through a chute—all of them—and are easily emptied. The other Hod is for Coal. This feature saves lots of trouble and is patented.

Then there is the wonderful Single Damper (patented); slide the knob to "kindle," "bake" or "check," the range does the rest.

The Oven has cup-joint heat flues that heat it all over alike.

The Patented Grates save coal and trouble.

WM. P. CONNERY

WAS NOMINATED FOR MAYOR OF LYNN

LYNN, Nov. 23.—Mayor James B. Rich and William P. Connery, both democrats, were nominated yesterday in the preliminary election as candidates for mayor and commissioner of public safety. Rice received 3068 votes and Connery 2723. Henry W. Earleton, republican, got 2553 votes. The next nearest candidates out of a field of twelve received less than 1000 votes.

This was the first primary election under the new city charter and also the first time so many candidates sought office here. Those who qualified in addition to the two for mayor and commissioner of public safety were: Commissioner of finance, Frank A. Turnbull, Benjamin Peuch; commissioner of highways, George H. McPhetres, Charles H. Ramsdell; commissioner of water and water works, Thomas Campbell, 2d, James P. Sullivan; commissioner of public property, Herbert C. Bayrd, John J. Joyce.

FLORENCE CROKER

Said to Be Engaged to Wealthy Man

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—The marriage of Miss Florence Croker, eldest daughter of Richard Croker, the ex-

MISS FLORENCE CROKER

Tammany chief, is expected to be announced by Dec. 1. Miss Croker is with her father in Florida at present. She is said to be engaged to a wealthy Irishman of Dublin.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. Harry E. Martin and Miss Anna M. Delmore were married last evening at 5 o'clock at the parochial residence of St. Patrick's church. Rev. Joseph Curtin was the officiating clergyman. The groom was attended by Mr. John McDermott and Miss Margaret Delmore. The bride was accompanied by her father, Mr. J. J. Delmore, and her bridesmaids, Misses Mary and Elizabeth Delmore. The ceremony was held in a white hall with white trimmings. Both the bride and bridegroom carried yellow chrysanthemums. After the ceremony a reception was held and a wedding breakfast served at 940 School street. Besides Lowell friends, guests were present from Lawrence, Lynn and Boston. Mr. and Mrs. Martin were the recipients of many beautiful and useful wedding gifts. They will spend their honeymoon in the Maritime provinces and will visit relatives in Fredericton, the capital of New Brunswick. The happy young couple were given a very brilliant send off at the Middlesex depot as they took their departure for Boston. Members of the Longfellow club, which Mr. Martin is a prominent member, followed the wedding carriage to the depot, hurrying and cheering all the way and before the train for Boston arrived the newly-weds were showered with rice and confetti. Mr. and Mrs. Martin will return to Lowell after December 1st.

LAROCHE-GERMAIN

Mr. Amadee Laroche of Boston and

Miss Annette Germain of this city were married yesterday morning at St. Joseph's church, at a nuptial mass celebrated at 8 o'clock by Rev. Fr. Baron, O. M. I. Mr. Pierre F. Germain attended his daughter, and Mr. Pierre Longval was the bridegroom's witness. After the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served at the bride's home, 53 Cabot street, and at noon, Mr. and Mrs. Laroche left on a wedding tour. They have received many handsome gifts, and will make their home in Boston.

BERUBE-GUILMETTE

Mr. Louis Napoleon Berube and Miss Marie Louise Guilmette were married yesterday morning at St. Joseph's church, at a nuptial mass celebrated at 7 o'clock by Rev. Fr. Rasette, O. M. I. A wedding dinner was served at the bride's home, 126 Perkins street, and at night a reception was held at the bridegroom's home, 90 Tilden street.

PLEADWELL-SUTCLIFFE

Mr. George Frederic Pleadwell of Boston, and Miss Bertha Marietta Sutcliffe of North Billerica, were united in marriage Monday afternoon at the North Billerica church, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Charles H. Williams, the pastor of the church. Only the immediate relatives of the contracting parties were present. Mr. and Mrs. Pleadwell left on their honeymoon trip, after which they will reside in Boston.

WARD-LEFEVRE

Mr. William H. Ward and Miss Amy Belle Lefevre were united in marriage last evening at the home of the bride, 915 Lawrence street. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. James Danforth of St. John's Episcopal church, in the presence of relatives and friends, at six o'clock.

The bride was gowned in white satin trimmed with real lace and carried white roses. The bridegroom, Mr. Cray, was gowned in yellow satin with chiffon overdress and carried yellow chrysanthemums. The best man was Mr. James Rodgers. The bride was given away by her brother-in-law, Mr. Charles A. Whitte, superintendent of parks. The wedding music was played by the orchestra.

COST OF LIVING INCREASES.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—In sympathy with conditions in the United States the cost of living shows corresponding increases in various European countries, according to consular reports. Consul William J. Pike, stationed at Reichberg, reports that measures of protest are frequently held in Austria attended by citizens of all classes. One of the chief grievances of the Austrian people is the high price of meats, appeals being made to the government for a change in policy whereby the importation of American meats would be made possible.
